Bomb Output Good

U.S. Far Ahead Of Russians

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — The Atomic Energy Commission today announced construction of a huge atomic war plant and was revealed to have told Congress that the United States is "in a very strong position—well ahead of Russia" in A-bomb production.

The new atomic plant, which will be built on a 5,000-acre site 16 miles west of Paducah, Ky., "will further expand capacity for producing Uranium-235 for use in weapons and in fuel elements for nuclear reactors."

AEC Chairman Gordon Dean told a House appropriations subcommittee that the U. S. is ahead of Russia in the atomic weapons field when asked what has happened to some $3 billion given to his agency.

Dean's estimate was released today a few hours after the AEC announced that it had arranged with Britain to buy uranium ore from "one of the world's largest sources"—South African gold ores.

Both the U. S. and Britain will use the immense South African ore output to maintain the West's present lead over Russia in the atomic arms race.

Dean told Congress Dec. 6:

"I CAN ASSURE you from where I sit that, so far as bombs are concerned this country is in a strong position."

The Kentucky plant is the second expansion of atomic facilities to be announced within recent weeks by the AEC. The Commission previously acquired a large area in South Carolina for atomic energy facilities.

Today's announcement said that funds for the new Uranium-235 production facility are included in the second supplemental appropriation request now being considered by Congress.

In this request, President Truman asked for slightly more than $1 billion to expand atomic facilities. Chairman McMahon, (D) Conn., of the Congressional Atomic Committee, said these funds will assure America's lead in the atomic field.

The AEC said that the "principal component of the facilities to be constructed will be a large gaseous diffusion plant for the separation of fissionable Uranium-235 from non-fissionable Uranium-238." It added:

"The new plant will supplement the extensive U-235 separation facilities now in operation or under construction at Oak Ridge (Tenn.)."

The AEC said that a peak construction force of 10,000 workers may be required at the new Kentucky installation.

IT ALSO STATED that "a considerable part" of the 5,000-acre site will be obtained through purchase.

When completed, the new plant will be operated for the AEC by the Union Carbide and Carbon Corp., which operates major atomic facilities at Oak Ridge.

The AEC said that as many as 1,600 persons may be employed permanently at the plant. It said operations of the installation will involve "no appreciable radiation problems."

Man Is Held In Son's Death

BOWLING GREEN, Dec. 15—Herbert Renfer, 22, of Millbury, a being held in Wood County jail today in connection with the death of his four-month-old son.

Renfer was arrested when County Coroner H. W. Mannhardt reported that a preliminary autopsy indicated the infant died of a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday following a beating.

Deputy Sheriff James Meagley said the young father admitted beating the child when he became enraged because his son would not stop crying.

Rail Strike Being Taken Quickly To Federal Court

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — Attorney General McGrath said the government will seek contempt of court citations today against the trainmen's union in an effort to end the spreading railroad strike.

McGrath told newsmen after a cabinet meeting in the White House that the action will be taken in Chicago and perhaps in Cleveland.

Swift court action was decided on by the government as the transportation tieup hit seven major cities and showed signs of spreading rapidly.

In seeking the contempt citation, federal attorneys risked the same legal defeat they met at the hands of John L. Lewis last Spring.

Mail Embargo Levied On All But 1st Class

The wildcat railroad strike is going to provide a lot of people with ready-made alibis when their Christmas cards and presents fail to arrive.

An embargo, starting Friday, halts postoffice acceptance of cross-country and north-south mail except sealed first-class matter weighing less than eight ounces and daily newspapers.

No mail in the restricted categories will be accepted in Circleville for delivery outside of nearby surrounding areas. Delivery of any mail will be made in Circleville and the immediate area.

Leon Van Vliet, assistant postmaster here, said there were no out-of-county parcel post packages remaining in the local post-office. He said Friday:

"We were able to clear our office yesterday. The parcels may be held up elsewhere, but they at least got a start."

He said that the local office is accepting no parcel post packages which must be transported by rail or such mail as Christmas greeting cards with only a two-cent stamp.

First class mail is being handled, however.

CHRISTMAS packages shipped by air mail will be accepted, providing senders are willing to pay the comparatively high postage.

Regarding Christmas cards carrying only a two-cent stamp, one observer opined:

"Seems like people could wish their friends a first-class Merry Christmas."

This would require a three-cent stamp.

Van Vliet said Postmaster A. Hulise Hays received the following instructions early Friday from Postmaster General J. M. Donaldson:

"Temporary suspension of mailing of second, third, and fourth-class matter, and restriction of weights of first-class, December 14, 1950.

Tie up of railroad switching at Chicago, St. Louis, and Washington, D. C., makes this imperative that certain mail restrictions be employed.

EMERGENCY PROCLAMATION DUE SATURDAY

President May Shock Nation In Talk Booked To Be Given At 10:30 Tonight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — President Truman tells the American people tonight that he will proclaim a national emergency tomorrow as the first step in a crucial race to meet the threat of world war created by flagrant and increasing Communist aggression.

A high official predicted that the President's broadcast by radio and television at 10:30 p. m. "may shock the nation" with its disclosure of the grave peril confronting the United States and the sacrifices that must be made.

The chief executive may order an immediate 90-day price-wage freeze and will spell out the drastic measures necessary to assure success of a gigantic rearmament program.

White House sources said Mr. Truman's message will be the grimmest he has delivered in his five and one-half years as President and that he will denounce Russia for its ruthless backing of the Communist threat to the free world.

THEY SAID President Truman has no plan to try 11th-hour mediation and will allow the Army to seek court punishment of the Railroad Trainmen's Union for striking against the government in defiance of anti-strike injunctions.

Federal courts in Chicago, Washington and Cleveland have issued temporary restraining orders against continuance of the rail strike. There are reports the strike may spread to Detroit, Milwaukee, Kansas City and other key cities.

The walkout of yardmen in five important terminals already has piled up freight and disrupted passenger traffic.

Washington handles the eastern seaboard's north-south rail business, while Chicago and St. Louis are the clearing centers for east-west shipments.

The Postoffice Department has clamped a partial embargo on mail and high administration officials said the strike will hit the defense program if allowed to continue any longer.

Some blast furnaces already have been banked in Chicago. It is believed that a return to work can be effected through a contempt citation even though the union ultimately may win a "not guilty" verdict such as that handed down by Federal Judge Richmond B. Keach in the 1950 coal case.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES are similar. W. P. Kennedy, president of the trainmen, has termed the walkouts "unauthorized" and he ordered the strikers back to work even before the anti-strike injunctions were issued. The strikers have not yet obeyed his orders.

Last Spring Lewis directed his United Mine Workers back to the pits in response to a court order, but they ignored his instructions. Judge Keach ruled, however, that Lewis had complied with the anti-strike injunction and the union was not in contempt.

Keach's ruling is now on appeal to the U. S. circuit court. It ran contrary to a decision of Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough who held two years ago that a union was responsible for the mass action of its members and could be found in contempt if those members disobeyed a court order. He fined the UMW heavily.

THE COKE PRICE WENT UP Friday in Lancaster, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Springfield. It was raised in Canton Thursday and East Liverpool Monday.

Reid explained that the increase is the result of an advance in prices of materials used in preparing the drink. He said prices of the materials have been on the upgrade for the last six months.

The jump in prices at this time apparently is in anticipation of President Truman declaring a state of national emergency.

Reid said that one reason for hesitation in increasing the price here is the expense entailed in changing over Coke vending machines from five cents to six cents.

The wholesale price of 7-Up was advanced to 96 cents a case Thursday.

Other soft drink firms are expected to follow the lead of the powerful Coca-Cola company, specific economic controls on essential defense materials.

2. Creation of a super-agency to centralize all defense production problems, to be headed by Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric.

He was vice-chairman of the War Production Board in World War II. Wilson accepted the post as industrial mobilization czar late yesterday.

3. Rapid and large-scale expansion of U. S. military might and atomic weapons production. A high official today said of the President's message tonight: "The President will tell the country the grave dangers it faces and the steps that must be taken to meet them. He will then take the steps necessary to implement his program."

The President is expected to announce selective wage-price and other economic controls Saturday in the wake of his national emergency proclamation.

Officials said the President will make it clear to Soviet Russia that the choice of "war or peace" is up to the Kremlin.

The President will express the U. S. will for peace, but declare this nation will oppose Communist aggression, if it comes, in Western Europe as well as in Asia.

Mr. Truman's grim outline of the perilous world situation, made to a bipartisan congressional group in the White House yesterday, brought this exclamation from Sen. Tobey, (R) N. H.:

"God help the American people if we don't all stick together and support the President in this critical emergency!"

Wu To Get UN Notice

Korea Cease-Fire Being Sought

FLUSHING MEADOW, Dec. 15 — The United Nations will initiate a peace bid to Communist China today by approaching Peiping Spokesman WU Hsiu-Chuan with a proposal for a cease-fire in Korea.

Assembly President Nasrallah Entezam of Iran has been granted the authority under a UN resolution adopted by 52 to 5 to contact both the unified command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Communist China on the possibility of arranging an immediate truce.

Sir Benegal Rau of India and Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, the two other delegates comprising the assembly's truce group, are mapping their strategy today in private conferences.

Chief American Delegate Warren Austin announced the appointment of Deputy Representative Ernest A. Gross as the spokesman for the unified command at UN, assisted in an advisory capacity by Lt. Gen. Wilis D. Crittenden. The latter is representative of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the UN Military Committee and is also commander of the First Army, stationed on Governor's Island, New York.

WU is to be notified officially during the day of the assembly's action and talks will be undertaken by the committee to determine to what extent—if any—the Peiping representative is prepared to act as the spokesman for his government on the cease-fire bid. His headquarters are in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel in New York.

Entezam indicated that he would have little hesitation in going direct to Peiping for talks with Mao Tse-tung if developments in the next few days indicate futility in dealing second-handly with the Peiping government.

Income Tax Aide Jailed

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15 — The former chief of the Cincinnati income tax division today is under sentence of a year and a day for embezzling $382 of government funds in 1938.

Robert J. Kerns, 57, pleaded guilty to the charge yesterday in federal court. Judge John H. Druffel denied a request for probation made on the ground that Kerns' services were necessary to the livelihood of his 92-year-old mother-in-law in Columbus.

He disclosed that the manpower goal for fiscal 1952 has been decided upon in the military services during the last 24 hours, and that it is "a little" more than three million men.

A high official of the department said: "I know of no plan to call up additional units of the National Guard or the organized Reserves."

He disclosed that the manpower goal for fiscal 1952 has been decided upon in the military services during the last 24 hours, and that it is "a little" more than three million men.

Communist Attacks Fanatical

Drive Over 38th Is Hurdled Back

SEOUL, Dec. 16—(Saturday)—Chinese Communist troops of a 120,000-man army launched a massive assault Friday on the last United Nations beachhead in North Korea, storming into the northern environs of the port of Hungnam.

Far to the southwest other United Nations troops hurled back a Communist attack eight miles below the 38th Parallel.

Climbing in wave after wave over the bodies of their own dead, fanatically attacking Chinese infantrymen swarmed on the tops of United Nations tanks as they pushed the American Third Division steadily back toward the northeastern port.

International News Service Correspondent Bernard Kaplan reported the fierce onslaughts had brought the Chinese to within two-and-a-half miles of Hungnam and cut off a unit of the U. S. Army's Third Infantry Division at Sinsong, six miles below the rail-industrial hub of Hamhung.

KAPLAN'S DISPATCH from the battle-churned 10th Corps beachhead said an American tank platoon sent to relieve the hard-pressed GIs was itself surrounded.

Swarming Chinese, heedless of losses, plunged past the smoking gun barrels of the U. S. tanks to climb atop the flame-belching monsters in an attempt to throw hand grenades down their hatches.

The Chinese troops, apparently acting on previously announced Communist orders to destroy all UN forces in Korea, were aided by undetermined numbers of fifth columnists and Red guerrilla bands who had slipped through the UN defenses to harass American, Puerto Rican, South Korean and other Allied troops from the flanks and rear.

The tank platoon was forced by sheer weight of numbers to give way before the shrieking bugle-blowing Chinese.

A dispatch received from Kaplan at 10:37 p. m. Friday said "the attack continues" but that 10th Corps officers were confident it could be contained.

Kaplan's front dispatch said, however, that the withdrawal southward from Sinsong threatened to expose the right (northeast) flank of the 10th Corps, including the vital Yonpo airfield.

But even the fall of Yonpo would leave the embattled 10th Corps with plenty of air support from carrier-based planes off the coast and the United Nations beachhead is well backed up by heavy guns from a naval armada off Hungnam.

SOME 300 MILES to the southwest of the last Allied toehold in North Korea, Communist troops were turned back when they attempted to attack an American position eight miles below the parallel and 43 miles northeast of Seoul.

India Deputy Premier Dies

BOMBAY, Dec. 15 — Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, deputy premier of India, died today a few hours after he was stricken with a heart attack.

The 75-year-old Patel, who was second only to Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru as a guiding figure in the politics of India, had been ill for some time with a stomach disorder. Patel, a close associate of the late Mohandas Gandhi, was a leader in India's long fight for independence.

Authorities added that several autos slipped from the road north of Circleville, but that the passengers were uninjured and the autos unharmed.

Pickaway County roads were reported to be "in a slippery, dangerous condition" from sleet and snow.

County Engineer Henry T. McCrady said crews were sent out to combat the hazardous road conditions with sand, salt and sodium chloride.

"Motorists who have no urgent reason for being on the roads should stay at home," the engineer added.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast follows:

"Temperatures will average three to five degrees below normal. Rather cold throughout the period, except a little warmer on Monday. Frequent snow flurries, except more general precipitation on Monday totaling about one-half inch."

President May Shock Nation In Talk Booked To Be Given At 10:30 Tonight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — President Truman tells the American people tonight that he will proclaim a national emergency tomorrow as the first step in a crucial race to meet the threat of world war created by flagrant and increasing Communist aggression.

White House sources said Mr. Truman's message will be the grimmest he has delivered in his five and one-half years as President and that he will denounce Russia for its ruthless backing of the Communist threat to the free world.

The President will hammer home the urgent necessity for economic and military mobilization putting the country on a near-war basis.

For several days the White House has been reported leaning toward only selective price-wage controls at this time on key defense materials.

Some officials said, however, that the need for effective stabilization may result in the immediate general freeze with adjustments to be made sometime in the next three months when full administrative and enforcement machinery has been assembled.

The President will announce the necessity for proclaiming a national emergency as the first step in mobilizing the nation's economy and manpower to combat Red China's intervention in Korea, and to meet the ominous threat of Communist armed aggression elsewhere, both in the Far East and in Europe.

Informed officials said the President will issue his emergency proclamation Saturday.

Other decisive steps to put the nation speedily on a near-war-time basis will follow this action swiftly.

Officials said these steps will include:

... NO NEUTRALITY

Dewey Demands Complete Mobilization For Yanks

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey urged last night the registration of every man and woman over 17 for national service in a mobilization to combat Russian attempts to conquer "the whole world."

The Republican leader demanded a vast military expansion and for designating 25 percent of American productive capacity for defense production.

Dewey outlined a program for United States survival in a speech at the annual dinner of the New York County Lawyer Association and proposed:

1—Calling out all National Guard troops to service "tomorrow morning."

2—Building up the Army to "not less than 100 divisions."

3—Increasing the Airforce to "at least 80 groups."

4—Putting all U. S. Navy vessels now in mothballs into service "without delay."

DEWEY SAID the United States must "abandon all those comfortable illusions which have allowed us to drift to this perilous point."

"Let us," he said, "get rid once and for all of the idea that Russia wants less than the whole world."

He warned that inflation could wreck the defense effort and urged that the only way to deal with it "is to finance our rearmament program on a pay as you go basis. We cannot save our freedom and also keep our personal comforts and luxuries."

In his proposal for enrolling all Americans over 17, Dewey said that "we must rally the total resources of our nation and the greatest of these resources are the men and women of America."

He declared that "the time for wobbling on major policy is long since past. I want to know who has the divisions and who's willing to fight on our side."

In outlining one of the toughest mobilization programs ever presented to the American people, Dewey warned that Russia may strike at any time and added:

"There can be no neutrality in this world."

Highway Crews Battling Snow And Ice Again

Pickaway County's state highway crew was called out late Thursday to spread chemicals over icy highways leading into Circleville.

Local authorities reported that extreme icy conditions existed on Routes 23 and 22 during the night due to sleety precipitation followed by a drop in temperatures.

Authorities added that several autos slipped from the road north of Circleville, but that the passengers were uninjured and the autos unhurt.

Pickaway County roads were reported to be "in a slippery, dangerous condition" from sleet and snow.

County Engineer Henry T. McCrady said crews were sent out to combat the hazardous road conditions with sand, salt and sodium chloride.

"Motorists who have no urgent reason for being on the roads should stay at home," the engineer added.

The weather bureau's five-day forecast follows:

"Temperatures will average three to five degrees below normal. Rather cold throughout the period, except a little warmer on Monday. Frequent snow flurries, except more general precipitation on Monday totaling about one-half inch."

hilltop position near Chunchon by bombing, strafing and rocketing the enemy."

The correction said identification of Chinese Communist soldiers in this area was erroneous and the text was corrected to read "discouraged the enemy."

The error led to the temporary belief that the long anticipated Chinese invasion of South Korea had begun.

Strong North Korean forces, however, were well launched on their second invasion across the artificial boundary.

Korean Republican army sources in Seoul reported Friday night that 2,000 or more Red troops, moving southeast from Haeju at the tip of the Ongjin peninsula, had thrust across the 38th toward Kaesong.

The Eighth Army reported a "heavy engagement" near Chunchon, and the Airforce said one of the main attacks was beaten off with the support of Mustangs.

FOR THE SECOND straight day, outnumbered American jet fighters beat off Russian-type jet fighters in a swirling dog fight.

Ten MIG-15 enemy jets attacked a flight of four F-80 Shooting Stars over Sinuiju Friday at about the same place where four Airforce jets defeated 24 enemy planes Thursday.

In Friday's 10-minute air battle pilots said they believed two of the enemy were damaged and, as in the previous day's action, none of the F-80s was harmed.

Air activity was stepped up also in the flaming northeast beachhead sector where carrier-based planes bombed and strafed behind the Chinese lines, and the Chinese moved to the attack through a hail of fire from American surface ships offshore.

Yule Recordings Made In Korea By U.S. Airmen

IN KOREA, Dec. 15—Santa Claus' Mission visited airmen of the U. S. Far East Airforce Materiel Command today arranging for what one flier called "the nicest presents possible."

The presents were voice recordings to be made by men of the FEAM command and shipped to parents, wives and sweethearts in the United States.

Throughout the Korean theater airmen and officers will take time off from their grim fighting duties to step into makeshift "studios" and send a brief, private message back home.

One such message recorded by an airman in Korea began: "Hello, Honey, Merry Christmas from Korea to you and forgive me if I sound like I'm crying because I am."

"Santa Claus' Mission was made possible through a program sponsored by the FEAM command's special services department which sent recording equipment and operators to Korea to see all command personnel and transcribe their messages.

4 Men Injured In 2-Car Crash North Of Here

Four men were injured at about 6 p. m. Thursday on Route 23 just north of the accident occurred near a curve just north of the new bridge spanning Big Walnut Creek.

The patrolman said an auto driven north by Larry Little, 19, of Lockbourne Route 1, and an auto driven south by Raymond Lindsey, 43, of Ashville, collided head-on.

Report of the cause of the mishap was incomplete since a third vehicle, a truck, was believed involved.

Little suffered severe head lacerations in the crash while Lindsey, driver of the other auto, suffered a face laceration and possible chest injury.

Injured also were Robert Art, 26, and Elmer Malone Jr., 19, both of Ashville, who were passengers in the Lindsey car.

Art's suffered lacerated knees in the crash, while Malone suffered possible fractures of the left hand and left wrist.

Both autos were badly damaged in the crash.

Gen. Marshall Has Hope For Averting War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Defense Secretary Marshall was disclosed today to have told Congress "a hope" exists that all-out war with the Soviet Union can still be averted.

The World War II Army chief of staff told a secret House Appropriations Committee session that he does not favor full-scale war mobilization at this time.

Marshall's testimony, made two weeks ago in connection with President Truman's request for an additional $18 billion for the armed forces, was made public today by the committee.

Marshall declared, however, that he found it "very hard" to answer categorically the question whether we shall be in an "all-out shooting war" within the next few months.

He stated:

"We are trying to avoid, in every way that is conceivably within reason, being projected into an all-out war, and at the same time we realize that an all-out war can be initiated by a single word from the other side."

Life Sentence Faces Man, 19

AKRON, Dec. 15—Robert Major, 19, faces a life prison term today for the slaying of Mrs. Elizabeth Neal last September.

The life sentence was made mandatory last night when Major was found guilty of first-degree murder by an Akron jury which recommended mercy.

The youth's attorneys had argued that Major was insane when he stabbed his 43-year-old employer to death during an attempt to rob her in her suburban home.

Something Wrong With The Mails

ORRVILLE, Dec. 15—Thomas I. Thompson of Orrville recently received from France the medal of Saint Michael, accompanied by certificates from U. S. Gen. John J. Pershing and French Prime Minister George Clemenceau. Both are dead.

The certificates thanked him for his World War I performance at Saint Michael while a member of the 42nd Rainbow (Ohio) Division—32 years ago.

Road Extension Hearing Delayed Until Dec. 30

Pickaway County commissioners Thursday postponed a hearing on proposal to extend South Pickaway street to a lane connecting it with Route 23 until Dec. 30.

Reason for the postponement, according to County Prosecutor Guy Cline, was that the commissioners had not given official notice of the hearing.

Meanwhile a remonstrance against the proposed new routes was filed by Gwendolyn and M. M. Crites. Mr. and Mrs. Crites objected to the proposed changes on the grounds that:

1. They cannot properly be made by the commissioners under the Section 6862 of the Ohio General Code.
2. Costs and expenses of the project would be in excess of the public benefit derived from it.
3. The proposed changes and location are not of sufficient public importance to justify their granting, and will result merely in increasing the value of a few lots in the hands of individual owners who now have sufficient means of getting to and from their premises.

School For Blind Contract Let

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—The James I. Barnes Construction Company of Springfield has been awarded a $1,643,500 general contract to build a new Ohio School for the Blind north of Columbus.

The two-story main educational building, eight cottages and a staff building are expected to be completed in 1952.

Four Columbus firms won the contracts for electrical work, heating and ventilating, plumbing and elevators.

Kirk's Data Is Awaited

Envoy Prepares Moscow Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—President Truman gets a direct and expert report from Moscow today to guide him in his grim radio talk to the American people tonight.

Ambassador to Russia Alan G. Kirk, just returned from his post, conferred late yesterday with Secretary of State Acheson.

He is to go to the White House today to give Mr. Truman a fill-in on his first-hand observations of Kremlin intentions in the world crisis.

Kirk brings back the views of his Moscow staff as well as of the Western diplomatic corps with whom they associate.

The ambassador, ostensibly home on a Christmas furlough, returned at the request of the State Department.

This in itself reflects the government's concern over the world situation.

Kirk probably will advise, too, on the form of a note being sent to Moscow this week on the possibility of a Big Four conference on outstanding problems.

THIS NOTE will decline to accept a Big Four conference on the sole issue of the demilitarization and unification of Germany. It will propose a meeting covering all problems and request an agreement on what these problems are and in what order they will be taken up.

Negotiation through diplomatic channels on this alone is likely to take weeks if Moscow's speed in responding to notes in the past is any criterion.

As in the tense days before Pearl Harbor, officials are not allowing any misstatements of the Russian propaganda machine, which are exploited throughout the world by local Communists, to go unchallenged.

The latest example of this was furnished in the State Department challenge to Soviet charges that Japan is being rearmed and that Japanese are fighting in the U. S. Army in Korea. The department spokesman declared these statements to be "naked lies."

New Courthouse Bids Awaited

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Bids for a new $1,500,000 Franklin County courthouse annex will be advertised Dec. 27 and opened Jan. 25.

Only then will it be known whether the costs of construction will fall within the limits approved by the voters in November 1945.

The annex originally was planned to be a seven-story affair with room for a county board of elections and a jail. Now a five-story building is contemplated, constructed so additional floors may be added later.

Petition Ready Seeking Minimum Teacher Salary

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Petitions bearing the names of some 200,000 Ohioans will be filed with the secretary of state today in support of minimum salaries for teachers.

George C. Beery, president of the Ohio Education Association, asserted last night that teachers as much as bombers and bullets are important to the country's defense.

Addressing the opening session of the 29th annual OEA meeting in Columbus, Beery said the minimums were necessary to keep trained teachers in the classroom "in this worldwide battle for the control of the minds of men."

He said the petitions for a minimum salary schedule bill to be presented to the legislature next month will carry more than double the required number of signatures.

He told the 1,000 assembled school teachers and school administrators that the petitions were "dramatic evidence of the conviction of Ohioans that the defense of our state and nation demands trained teachers."

The proposed minimums would be based on training and experience. A teacher with four years training and a degree would start at $2400 and receive increases of $100 for 16 years.

Slight Decline In Volume Noted At Stock Sale

A slight drop was noted in volume of livestock sales Wednesday by Pickaway County Livestock Association.

The association reported a sale of 1,393 animals, a decline of 190 from the 1,583 sold last week. Prices were up a little for cattle sales, down for hogs.

A total of 318 head of cattle went on the block Wednesday, compared to 431 last week. Hog sales totalled 650, a drop of 25 from the 675 marketed last week.

Calf receipts slipped to 63 from last week's sale of 143 head. Sheep and lamb receipts, on the other hand, climbed from last week's 334 head sold to Wednesday's sale of 362.

CATTLE RECEIPTS—318 Head—Steers and heifers, good 30-33.00; steers and heifers, medium to good 27.50-30; steers and heifers, common to medium 17-27.50; cows, common to good 17-24; cows, canners to common 12-17; bulls 18-26.00

A crowd described as "moderately good" lined the streets of downtown Circleville Thursday night to watch the Santa Claus parade.

The parade got under way at 7 p. m., starting at Circleville high school on South Court street and winding around the downtown streets.

Leading the parade was the high school band playing Christmas carols. Santa Claus, riding in an auto, came next. A group of 10 merchants lugging bags of candy brought up in the rear.

The candy was tossed out to children lining the sidewalks.

John Magill, local Chamber of Commerce secretary, said, "The crowd was better than average, considering the weather."

The chamber secretary said that downtown stores will remain open until 9 p. m. daily all of next week.

Cost Of War: 33,878 Casualties

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The Defense Department announced today that verified American casualties in Korea through Dec. 8 totalled 33,878, an increase of 1,436 over the total for the previous week.

The new total includes 5,258 killed in action; 23,477 wounded, of whom 607 have died, and 5,143 still listed as "missing," although 630 of these have been rescued.

Road Extension Hearing Delayed Until Dec. 30

Pickaway County commissioners Thursday postponed a hearing on proposal to extend South Pickaway street to a lane connecting it with Route 23 until Dec. 30.

Reason for the postponement, according to County Prosecutor Guy Cline, was that the commissioners had not given official notice of the hearing.

Meanwhile a remonstrance against the proposed new routes was filed by Gwendolyn and M. M. Crites. Mr. and Mrs. Crites objected to the proposed changes on the grounds that:

1. They cannot properly be made by the commissioners under the Section 6862 of the Ohio General Code.
2. Costs and expenses of the project would be in excess of the public benefit derived from it.
3. The proposed changes and location are not of sufficient public importance to justify their granting, and will result merely in increasing the value of a few lots in the hands of individual owners who now have sufficient means of getting to and from their premises.

Mail Embargo Levied On All But 1st Class

will consist of second (except daily newspapers), and all third, and fourth-class matter, and matter of the first-class exceeding eight ounces in weight.

"Restrictions will not apply to medicines, drugs, surgical instruments and surgical dressings."

"Postoffices in the states of Maine, N. H., Vermont, Mass., R. I., Conn., New York, New Jersey, Penn., Del. Md. Ohio, Ind., Mich., or Ill. will not accept matter of the restricted categories for delivery in any state not mentioned in this paragraph."

"No restrictions supply to mail for local delivery (including rural route, star route and highway postoffice) to airmail or air parcel post, or the mail originating at and destined for delivery at points between which it is known that interference with transportation exists."

School For Blind Contract Let

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—The James I. Barnes Construction Company of Springfield has been awarded a $1,643,500 general contract to build a new Ohio School for the Blind north of Columbus.

The two-story main educational building, eight cottages and a staff building are expected to be completed in 1952.

Four Columbus firms won the contracts for electrical work, heating and ventilating, plumbing and elevators.

Kirk's Data Is Awaited

Envoy Prepares Moscow Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—President Truman gets a direct and expert report from Moscow today to guide him in his grim radio talk to the American people tonight.

Ambassador to Russia Alan G. Kirk, just returned from his post, conferred late yesterday with Secretary of State Acheson.

He is to go to the White House today to give Mr. Truman a fill-in on his first-hand observations of Kremlin intentions in the world crisis.

Kirk brings back the views of his Moscow staff as well as of the Western diplomatic corps with whom they associate.

The ambassador, ostensibly home on a Christmas furlough, returned at the request of the State Department.

This in itself reflects the government's concern over the world situation.

Kirk probably will advise, too, on the form of a note being sent to Moscow this week on the possibility of a Big Four conference on outstanding problems.

THIS NOTE will decline to accept a Big Four conference on the sole issue of the demilitarization and unification of Germany. It will propose a meeting covering all problems and request an agreement on what these problems are and in what order they will be taken up.

Negotiation through diplomatic channels on this alone is likely to take weeks if Moscow's speed in responding to notes in the past is any criterion.

As in the tense days before Pearl Harbor, officials are not allowing any misstatements of the Russian propaganda machine, which are exploited throughout the world by local Communists, to go unchallenged.

The latest example of this was furnished in the State Department challenge to Soviet charges that Japan is being rearmed and that Japanese are fighting in the U. S. Army in Korea. The department spokesman declared these statements to be "naked lies."

New Courthouse Bids Awaited

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Bids for a new $1,500,000 Franklin County courthouse annex will be advertised Dec. 27 and opened Jan. 25.

Only then will it be known whether the costs of construction will fall within the limits approved by the voters in November 1945.

The annex originally was planned to be a seven-story affair with room for a county board of elections and a jail. Now a five-story building is contemplated, constructed so additional floors may be added later.

Petition Ready Seeking Minimum Teacher Salary

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Petitions bearing the names of some 200,000 Ohioans will be filed with the secretary of state today in support of minimum salaries for teachers.

George C. Beery, president of the Ohio Education Association, asserted last night that teachers as much as bombers and bullets are important to the country's defense.

Addressing the opening session of the 29th annual OEA meeting in Columbus, Beery said the minimums were necessary to keep trained teachers in the classroom "in this worldwide battle for the control of the minds of men."

He said the petitions for a minimum salary schedule bill to be presented to the legislature next month will carry more than double the required number of signatures.

He told the 1,000 assembled school teachers and school administrators that the petitions were "dramatic evidence of the conviction of Ohioans that the defense of our state and nation demands trained teachers."

The proposed minimums would be based on training and experience. A teacher with four years training and a degree would start at $2400 and receive increases of $100 for 16 years.

A crowd described as "moderately good" lined the streets of downtown Circleville Thursday night to watch the Santa Claus parade.

The parade got under way at 7 p. m., starting at Circleville high school on South Court street and winding around the downtown streets.

Leading the parade was the high school band playing Christmas carols. Santa Claus, riding in an auto, came next. A group of 10 merchants lugging bags of candy brought up in the rear.

The candy was tossed out to children lining the sidewalks.

John Magill, local Chamber of Commerce secretary, said, "The crowd was better than average, considering the weather."

The chamber secretary said that downtown stores will remain open until 9 p. m. daily all of next week.

Cost Of War: 33,878 Casualties

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—The Defense Department announced today that verified American casualties in Korea through Dec. 8 totalled 33,878, an increase of 1,436 over the total for the previous week.

The new total includes 5,258 killed in action; 23,477 wounded, of whom 607 have died, and 5,143 still listed as "missing," although 630 of these have been rescued.

'STAY OUT OF OUR JAIL'

Police Chief Is Warning
Against Yule 'Spirits'

Pickaway Countians who plan to "down a few" with the boss and the boys in Christmas parties this month are warned to leave their autos at home.

The warning was voiced by Police Chief William F. McCrady as a holiday safety measure.

"Traffic safety officials agree that the coming holiday season is the drinkingest time of the year," said the chief.

"I wouldn't want you to end up in our jail or in the hospital because of driving after drinking," he said, "especially during the holiday season."

Heavy holiday traffic, early darkness and weather conditions such as sleet, snow or rain are cited as factors which combine to make this a dangerous time of the year for both motorists and pedestrians.

To minimize these seasonal hazards, McCrady urged drivers to reduce speed on wet or slippery pavements to compensate for poor traction, to keep their windshield wipers, defrosters and lights in good working condition and especially to avoid driving after drinking.

"JUST AS WE KNOW that drinking impairs a driver's skill," he said, "we know that the holiday season is probably the drinkingest time of the year."

"The best policy for insuring an enjoyable, safe holiday season is by driving with one thought firmly in mind: that the man who has been drinking lowers his chances of survival to ridiculous odds the moment he takes a steering wheel in hand."

He also pointed out that pedestrians must take special precautions. They should be on the alert since drivers cannot see them as well after dark or in rain or snow.

Meanwhile, Mayor Thurman I. Miller made six suggested recommendations for a safe Christmas. They are:

Foe Of Railroad Finds He Has Some Sympathy

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—The railroad odyssey of Homer—the man who went to dinner on a diner and couldn't get served—moved sympathetic Chicagoans today to start a fund to help pay his $100 fine for disorderly conduct.

Money has been sent to a Chicago newspaper for Homer Smith, 46, who began tearing up railroad timetables because he once spent so much time as a coach passenger waiting for a table on the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad while first class passengers were served.

Smith was fined in Chicago municipal court yesterday for writing 70 anonymous letters to officials of the road and tearing up its schedules in hotel lobbies. One contributor wrote:

"I feel exactly the way Smith does and I've had the same experience. After all, you can get just as hungry in a coach as a pullman."

inch above the original cut and set it in water;

"Check your tree light sets for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. Be sure all lights are off before retiring or leaving the house;

"Guard against sparks from fireplaces;

"Use only flameproofed decorations;

"AVOID CELLULOID articles such as dolls, and toys requiring alcohol, kerosene or gasoline to generate power are equally dangerous; and

"Don't let Christmas package wrapping paper to accumulate. If you can't put out a fire immediately, call the fire department at once."

In addition, authorities have offered a method by which the tree and ornaments may be flameproofed in the home.

The authorities suggest a rinse consisting of nine ounces of borax, four ounces of boric acid and one gallon of water. Anything which is safe in water may be rinsed in the solution.

U.S. Revising Loan Program For Europe

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — The United States may revise completely its dollar arrangements with Western European nations as a result of the military requirements of the North Atlantic Alliance.

This tendency was noted today following the agreement between the U. S. and Britain to discontinue Economic Cooperation Administration assistance after Jan. 1.

Senate Foreign Relations Chairman Connally, (D) Texas, said it is possible there may be cuts in aid to other ECA countries.

Sen. McClellan, (D) Ark., called for the "absolute end of the European Recovery Program as such" by next June 30.

McClellan declared that the military assistance the U. S. undoubtedly will continue to give Western Europe should make it possible to cut off economic aid without depressive results.

There has been widespread agitation to cut down Marshall Plan aid during the coming year and the willingness of European powers to abandon it would presumably make it easier for the administration to get other more important measure through the next Congress.

It had originally been planned to carry on Marshall Plan aid through 1952.

Developments in the Far East, with subsequent chances of military operations in Europe, have changed this picture.

To make one ton of steel, the railroads haul about four tons of ore, coal, coke, scrap iron and limestone.

Police Chief Said Too Lax

NEWPORT, Ky., Dec. 15 — A Kentucky police chief is under suspension today and may lose his job because complaints were made that gambling laws were "unequally" enforced in the notorious gambling town of Newport.

Malcolm Rhoads, city manager of Newport, suspended Chief

George Gugel last night. Rhoads told the city commissioners the chief was lax in the enforcement of an anti-gambling drive started last April.

TV-Radio Programs

Programs listed in the following television log contain errors daily, the fault resting entirely with broadcasters and not with The Herald. Intent of this newspaper is to provide accurate information for subscribers, but finds this impossible so far as the three Columbus television stations are concerned. The programs printed are assembled from information sent out by the Columbus stations and are not to be regarded seriously. Complaints about inaccuracies in program listings should be made to the broadcasting stations and not to The Herald. Because of continuing inaccuracies, The Herald has been forced to delete all TV programs prior to 6 p. m. Radio programs are evening network listings.

McClellan declared that the military assistance the U. S. undoubtedly will continue to give Western Europe should make it possible to cut off economic aid without depressive results.

There has been widespread agitation to cut down Marshall Plan aid during the coming year and the willingness of European powers to abandon it would presumably make it easier for the administration to get other more important measure through the next Congress.

It had originally been planned to carry on Marshall Plan aid through 1952.

Developments in the Far East, with subsequent chances of military operations in Europe, have changed this picture.

To make one ton of steel, the railroads haul about four tons of ore, coal, coke, scrap iron and limestone.

Police Chief Said Too Lax

NEWPORT, Ky., Dec. 15 — A Kentucky police chief is under suspension today and may lose his job because complaints were made that gambling laws were "unequally" enforced in the notorious gambling town of Newport.

Malcolm Rhoads, city manager of Newport, suspended Chief George Gugel last night. Rhoads told the city commissioners the chief was lax in the enforcement of an anti-gambling drive started last April.

A swank Newport club, raided for gambling, made the charges of "unequal" enforcement.

AMUSEMENT TAX SOUGHT

County's Trustees File
Want List In Legislature

Pickaway County Association of Township Trustees and Clerks wants state legislation passed authorizing townships to levy a three percent amusement tax.

The group also wants legislation requiring approval of township trustees before new township roads or streets are accepted.

These are among nine bills the Ohio Association of Township Trustees and Clerks expects to place before the state legislature next year, according to Joe R. Thomas, state president of the association.

He said the nine bills were discussed and approved by Pickaway County trustees and clerks during a meeting in Memorial Hall Tuesday.

any trend in the cost of government. Two years ago the state legislature passed a law granting a flat $600 to townships out of sales tax funds.

2. Require builders to obtain permits from township trustees before erecting or making major alterations in buildings. This would enable the trustees to make accurate reports to the county for tax listings.

3. One year additional road revenue for townships. The association believes that 25 percent of auto license fees from persons living in unincorporated areas should go to townships.

This would be the same as the amount received by municipalities from those living in the municipality.

4. A new method of financing county health departments in order to relieve the drain on township general funds. No specific method was discussed by the group Tuesday.

5. Authority for township to put general road levies outside the 10-mill limitation before the people of the township for vote.

6. Increase the $2,000 maximum for the cost of township buildings.

7. Retain the present system of supervision of township roads.

Church Uses
Shot Glasses?

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 — The drinks Max Minus served were minus in size—but the Chicago tavernkeeper claims it was the fault of a church group that "subtracted" from his stock of shot glasses and gave him "smaller, cheating glasses."

A city inspector testified yesterday he was sold a shot of whisky in Minus' tavern that was short of the legal one-ounce requirement.

Minus told Municipal Judge Cecil C. Smith:

"It's all a mistake. The dance committee of a neighborhood church group borrowed three dozen of my shot glasses recently. They returned smaller, cheating glasses — borrowed from some other tavern."

The judge gave Minus until Dec. 20 to bring witnesses to prove the church group was to blame.

Must Be Rough
For Shoppers
In Columbus

Columbus police have issued another list of precautions for Christmas shoppers as 15 women reported cash and billfolds stolen from their purses in downtown stores Wednesday.

Detective Chief Clem Owens warned:

Don't carry your purse hanging from a strap; hold it tightly in your hand.

Don't lay a purse or valuables on a counter.

Don't flash large sums of money.

Don't carry anything of value in your purse except what you need, and report any loss to police immediately.

If you must leave packages in a parked car, lock them in the trunk out of sight.

Owens said 15 women reported money taken from purses hanging from their shoulders. Thirteen of the thefts occurred in 10-cent stores.

Mrs. Leo Picard, of Church Point, Louisiana, says the cooking some women do with fancy new stoves and so forth may be easier but one certainly doesn't get the same results. Mrs. Picard says for an honest-to-goodness "old-fashioned meal," the kind that puts a man in trim to do farm work, she'll take old-fashioned cooking methods every time. Mrs. Picard further says that since she has been taking HADACOL she doesn't have a bit of trouble cooking for her whole family and doing her chores about the house for she found that by taking HADACOL her system overcame deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

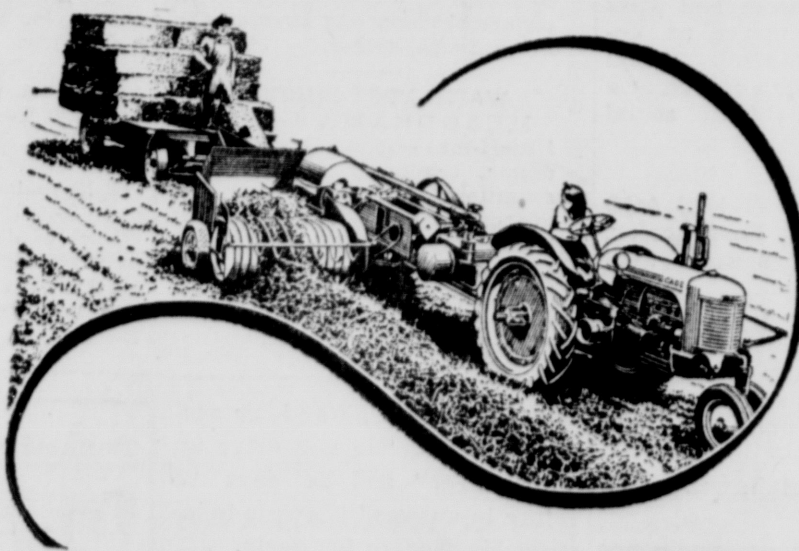

Here is Mrs. Picard's own statement: "About six months ago I began having vague aches and pains. I had a very hard time getting my work done—watching my two little daughters, keeping the house clean and doing all the cooking. I had lost my appetite and I could hardly get any sleep at all. Finally I was forced to go to bed and my sister had to do my housework. I felt terrible. I then heard about HADACOL and how other folks were feeling wonderful because of HADACOL. In just three weeks' time I could tell a difference. I get a wonderful night's sleep and, best of all, I now have a fine appetite. HADACOL is certainly wonderful. I have told all my neighbors how really wonderful HADACOL is." Yes, You Should Try HADACOL. . . as have thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Iron and Niacin. The HADACOL formula is so effective for aches and pains and a general run-down condition when they are due to such deficiencies in your system.

Make up your mind to give remarkable HADACOL a chance to help you as it has helped thousands of others whose systems lacked Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Remember, there are no substitutes for HADACOL. Always insist on the genuine HADACOL. No risk involved. Buy a bottle of HADACOL, either the trial size, $1.25, or the large family or hospital size, $3.50, and if HADACOL does not help you, your money will be refunded. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

LENIN'S PREDICTION

WITH WORLD peace in jeopardy, there is a growing tendency on the part of the American people to recall past events that had to do with bringing about the present situation.

Although it was more of a boastful prediction than a warning, Lenin, founder of Russian communism, declared many years ago that eventually Russia would force the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy.

The time is at hand when the American people must face the threat of communism. The propaganda stage has passed in the conflict between freedom and communism. Millions of men are under arms for the sole purpose of overthrowing a way of life which stands for personal liberty and everything that is abhorrent to the red dictators. But in the face of this grave danger Washington continues to carry on in a manner which Lenin predicted would be this country's undoing.

Billions of dollars are needed for defense against Russian aggression. But Congress gives no indication it will move to cut down nonessential spending. With the 1952 election in mind, the administration is still thinking of votes instead of national security. Will Congress continue a course which will make Lenin's prediction come true?

BORN TO WORK

TIME hangs heavy on the hands of a man of 93, believed to be America's oldest dentist, who retired from active practice at the age of 89 and now regrets that he did so. Charles William Adams of Boston, who had been a physician six years before he turned to dentistry, which he practiced in Boston for 60 years, set a broken leg the day he pulled his first tooth.

Mr. Adams, who has been attending a dental convention in New York, still wears, after 72 years, the beard he grew at the age of 21 to make himself look older. Every fair day he walks a mile and feels it adds to his longevity. He spends considerable time visiting museums and attending conventions, but still longs for the daily tasks. He says:

"You know, a man should never retire. It makes him old before his time. I'm sorry I ever did. However, I have always stayed young in heart."

That is one man's point of view, of course, and retirement is all right for an individual who has built up for himself an engrossing avocation. But one Doc Adams is more than the equal to half a dozen men who watch the years pass and sigh: "Oh, to do nothing, nothing!"

If people had to eat their words these days, Truman would have a perpetual case of indigestion.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

I never thought that I would write a column about Harry Truman's letter to Paul Hume, which under our postal laws should not have passed through the mails. But then the thought came to me:

Suppose Hume had written such a letter to Mr. Truman!

That speculation is interesting. Hume is 34; Mr. Truman 66. Suppose Hume had threatened to beat up Mr. Truman and to kick him in a vulnerable part of his body! For mark Mr. Truman's words:

"I never met you, but if I do you'll need a new nose and plenty of beefsteak and perhaps a supporter below."

The kicking is inherent in the threat.

Under such circumstances, the White House secretariat would have passed the letter to the Secret Service. They would have come down on Hume as a threatening assassin. They would have examined his relationships from birth. They would have arrested him and subjected him to examination by a psychiatrist. He probably would have been imprisoned as a nut.

But his speculation leads further. Mr. Truman threatens this musical journalist with physical punishment for saying that his daughter's singing is flat. I only heard the lady once on the radio and recalled Galli-Curci, Alma Gluck and others to her disadvantage. I never listened again, perhaps to my disadvantage.

Now, suppose Hume were to say to the President, "Fine! You want to do all those things to me. Let's go around the corner and do them!"

The Secret Service would arrest Hume as threatening the safety of the President, who does not mind threatening Hume's safety. Is it less majesty or noblesse oblige?

Some politicians think that the President's vulgarities are cute. They say that the great "unwashed" will cheer his chivalrous defense of his daughter's flatness. Unfortunately for such politicians, there are no great unwashed in this country nor is it chivalrous to threaten a musical critic who in the course of his duty can only, with honesty, write one man's opinion. No publisher would have ordered Hume to color his report to suit the tastes of anyone.

Chivalry does not require the expressions of the barnyard. If Mr. Truman felt that this critic had done his daughter a grave injustice by reference to her flatness, if any, he should also have remembered that he is President of the United States and that Presidents do not throw their weight around in private matters. At a time when we have probably lost 10,000 American lives in Korea, Miss Truman's singing is strictly a private matter of minor importance.

Now, of course, music critics will avoid commenting on her singing, which will hurt her career, as singers live by notices, favorable and unfavorable. The critic who writes that her voice makes Jenny Lind sound like the last rose of Summer will be accused of being afraid that the senator at the White House might kick him where the Marquess of Queensberry says you should not. If a critic wants to pan her, his colleagues will say that he is currying a letter to send to a dealer.

Malformed Intestine May Cause This Trouble in Baby

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

AS a rule, when diarrhea appears in infants, it comes as a result of infection. There are, however, certain babies who have a mild type of diarrhea which is not due to this cause but rather to failure of the bowel to function normally. Often, these babies are found to have slight malformation of the large intestine. Either this tube is shorter than it should be or the opening through it is over-narrow. In such a situation it is easy to overfeed these infants and this is thought to be a factor in producing the diarrhea.

Fortunately, the remedy for this condition is simple. It consists in giving the child no more food than he is constitutionally able to handle. Where the child is actually getting more food than he requires, the total amount is cut down. In other instances, it is necessary to reduce the bulk of the food without at the same time decreasing the caloric or heat value of the baby's diet. This is done by giving more concentrated feedings; that is, the amount of water in them is reduced. Evaporated milk is often employed for this purpose.

Number of Feedings
Since overloading of the large bowel is the thing to be avoided, it may be advisable to increase the number of feedings to as many as seven to ten in 24 hours. With small, frequent feedings, the bowel is not subjected to a great bulk of food at any one time. If the amount of water in the feedings is cut down, the baby should, of course, be offered water between feedings, particularly in warm weather.

Even though the diarrhea in itself may not seem serious, it is important to clear it up, since it may cause certain complications. One of these is pyelitis or inflammation of the part of the kidney in which the urine collects before passing into the bladder. It is also suggested that when an infant has diarrhea the diapers be put on loosely and changed promptly when soiled. This will aid in preventing pyelitis, particularly in girl infants.

Diaper Rash

Another complication of the diarrhea is diaper rash, an inflammation of the skin due to the formation of ammonia on the diapers. Prompt changing of the diapers and keeping the skin covered with a protective ointment may be helpful in this connection.

Of course, whenever a baby has diarrhea, immediate treatment by the physician is important as the diarrhea may become a serious disturbance.

CHAPTER FORTY-EIGHT
LIZA SAID, "Michael, I once told you the sort of girl I believe Hiram would eventually marry. Remember?"

"You did. I blush to recall that conversation. I've never regained my youthful innocence."

"Well?"

"You don't believe that Patty—"

"I do. Of course, he can't have all his requirements, no one can—or, rarely. She has no money nor what he would consider background. But perhaps a girl with both wouldn't think him marvelous. Patty will. She'll believe him omnipotent. And he molded into the exact shape he demands."

"There is nothing wrong with the unfortunate girl's shape."

"You know what I mean. In fact, she has begun. Did you notice her dress last night?"

"No. It's not women's clothes that I—" he began.

"Be quiet. It was plain, striking, but not sensational. She looked better than I've ever seen her. Did you notice her fingernails?"

"Liza, I never notice a woman's nails until they start to claw at my eyes."

"They're quite short," said Liza, "and the polish was pale. Somewhere, sometime, Hiram has commented on fingernails."

"You're too explosive for Bikini. So now, you think, you are clear of the woods?"

"What woods?"

"Hiram's dark private jungle. Robert Fleming's cleared and sunny forest, if we must carry on with the metaphor. What about Patty, shaped, not only to Hiram's purposes, but to yours?"

"Michael, you have some sense. You know Patty would not only be happy, but have everything she wants—if it works out."

"Sure, it will work out. It wouldn't dare not to. And, yes, I suppose you're right," he added. For he knew Patty, and others like her. They would settle for a Hiram. Who could blame them?

"Michael, don't worry. He would be good to her."

"I suppose the end justifies the means, but what are you going to do now?"

She said, "I haven't decided."

When they reached the apartment, he hesitated. "If you don't really want me to come up..." he began.

"I do. We can sit on the terrace for a while. I'm tired. I think, but not sleepy."

She had let Olga and Norden go, and Michael made himself a drink while she found the pitcher of iced tea in the refrigerator, and they went to the terrace with their glasses and sat there, looking at the lights, with the heat mist halting them, hearing the lonely sounds from the river and after a while she said:

"I'm glad you came up. It would have been dreadful letting myself in here alone; hearing the street noises and the boat whistles..."

"I thought I would like it so much on the river. And I do. Yet there were times after I moved when I thought I'd made a mistake, it would be better to be midtown. They'll come again, I suppose. There's something eerie about river sounds, about the river itself, going away, going fast, going somewhere."

She put down her glass and said with unusual violence, "It's no good, no good at all."

"What?"

"Living alone."

"Couldn't you find someone...?"

I know Abby's out of the question, and would have been even if you hadn't made plans for her—she'd never leave home for long. But perhaps as time goes on, you'll find someone your own age, a nice gal, who will be companionable, yet not intrude upon you personally, nor you upon her."

"Are there such women? I doubt it. I'm not one myself. I would intrude, I'd want to help her, I'd want to... yes, make plans for her," she admitted.

"Many such arrangements turn out well, providing the little things don't fall in love with each other's men."

"Business girls mostly, career women," said Liza. "That's different. They aren't under each other's feet all day."

"A business girl might be the answer for you."

"No." She moved in the deep chair, and he could see her face in the light from the living room. "I wouldn't be interested in sharing my apartment with a woman," she said.

"A sister, yes, or—one's mother..." She stopped for so long that he thought she had fallen asleep. She was thinking of Marie, and how happy she would have been here. "I'm sorry, Michael," she said, with an effort.

"I thought you were napping."

"I was thinking of my mother. She was special. I wish you could have known her. She was unsentimental. She had deep sentiment."

Ladies! Marriage Called Aid to Political Career | Michigan's Ruth Thompson Congress' Only Spinster

WASHINGTON—Marriage would appear to be a great help to a girl's political ambitions. At any rate, there is only one spinster among the nine women who will serve in the 82nd Congress come January. She is Ruth Thompson, a Republican, of the ninth Michigan district.

All of the other eight women in the new Congress are either wives or widows. All but two—Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R), Maine, and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R), Massachusetts—are mothers as well.

Some of the newcomers, faced with Washington's high cost of living and their husbands' work at home, plan to leave their families behind. Some have married children but those with teen-agers and younger intend to keep them in school away from Washington.

Rep. Edna Kelly (D), New York, plans to leave 20-year-old William and 16-year-old Maura in school in New York. Rep. Marguerite Church (R), Illinois, has two war veteran sons and a daughter who is attending Wellesley college. Zilpha Bosone, 19, will be with her mother, Rep. Reva Beck Bosone (D), Utah, in Washington.

Not one of the congresswomen considers a family a drawback in pursuing a political career. In fact, all of them say that they never would have made it without their families' encouragement and help.

● ATOMIC BOMBS—A-bombs may be stored in Alaska for a quick retaliatory raid against an enemy in the event of a surprise attack against the United States.

A congressional source, who recently visited the Far North and inspected United States defenses there, hinted very strongly that the Air Force has A-bombs there. He said: "They have the bombs and what goes with them—if you know what I mean."

Asked if he meant A-bombs, the source smiled, but failed to deny it.

● ALASKA-HAWAII—Speaking of Alaska, it seems doubtful that the "lame duck" session of Congress will enact statehood for Alaska—or Hawaii—despite administration pressure for such legislation.

The House already has voted statehood for the two territories and only Senate approval is now needed on Capitol Hill. However, in the Senate there is strong organized opposition to such a move.

A bloc of southern senators is fighting statehood and could stall any Senate attempt at action by merely launching a filibuster. It's questionable whether the Senate would be willing to take time to break any talkfest.

● CIVILIAN ARMY—A great expansion of the National Guard and the Army Reserve can be expected now that Gen. George C. Marshall has decided to remain in President Truman's Cabinet indefinitely as Defense secretary.

Even if the Army gets half of the three million men now sought for the military establishment, Marshall's goal could be realized only if the Guard is doubled and the number of drill-paid reserves is at least tripled.

This, of course, is militarily important, since it will permit observation and attack upon an enemy from the air in weather which up until now has kept the Air Force at bay.

Details as to how the holes are drilled in super-cooled layer-type or stratus clouds have not been made public. However, the technique is believed to be related to that used by the now-famous "rain makers," who use dry ice or silver iodide to cause rain drops or ice crystals.

The work is still in the experimental stage, but practical application may not be far off.

LENIN'S PREDICTION

WITH WORLD peace in jeopardy, there is a growing tendency on the part of the American people to recall past events that had to do with bringing about the present situation.

Although it was more of a boastful prediction than a warning, Lenin, founder of Russian communism, declared many years ago that eventually Russia would force the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy.

The time is at hand when the American people must face the threat of communism. The propaganda stage has passed in the conflict between freedom and communism. Millions of men are under arms for the sole purpose of overthrowing a way of life which stands for personal liberty and everything that is abhorrent to the red dictators. But in the face of this grave danger Washington continues to carry on in a manner which Lenin predicted would be this country's undoing.

Billions of dollars are needed for defense against Russian aggression. But Congress gives no indication it will move to cut down nonessential spending. With the 1952 election in mind, the administration is still thinking of votes instead of national security. Will Congress continue a course which will make Lenin's prediction come true?

"Are there such women? I doubt it. I'm not one myself. I would intrude. I'd want to help her. I'd want to... yes, make plans for her," she admitted.

"Many such arrangements turn out well, providing the little things don't fall in love with each other's men."

"Business girls mostly, career women," said Liza. "That's different. They aren't under each other's feet all day."

"A business girl might be the answer for you."

"No." She moved in the deep chair and he could see her face in the light from the living room. "I wouldn't be interested in sharing my apartment with a woman," she said.

"A sister, yes, or one's mother..." She stopped for so long that he thought she had fallen asleep. She was thinking of Marie, and how happy she would have been here. "I'm sorry, Michael," she said, with an effort.

"I thought you were napping."

"I was thinking of my mother."

"She was special. I wish you could have known her. She was unsentimental. She had deep sentiment."

"If there is, you'll find it."

An oldie but still good is the story of the cranky storekeeper in a backwoods Alabama town who told a traveling salesman, "Things is so high, nobody hereabouts has got money for anything." The salesman started to blame the Administration when he suddenly recalled he was in Alabama, and apologized, "Sorry, I forgot everybody in these parts is a Democrat." "We sure are," agreed the storekeeper. "Voted straight Democrat all my life, and my Pappy and Grandpappy afore me. But let me tell you something, Mister. If you Damnyankees don't stop voting Democratic too, yer gonna ruin this whole darn country."

The growing popularity in France of a cola drink America has cherished for years had the wine industry in such a tizzy, it tried to persuade the French government to ban the sale of the concoction by a legal injunction. Ladies! Marriage Called Aid to Political Career

Michigan's Ruth Thompson Congress' Only Spinster

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—Marriage would appear to be a great help to a girl's political ambitions. At any rate, there is only one spinster among the nine women who will serve in the 82nd Congress come January. She is Ruth Thompson, a Republican, of the ninth Michigan district.

All of the other eight women in the new Congress are either wives or widows. All but two—Senator Margaret Chase Smith (R), Maine, and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R), Massachusetts—are mothers as well.

Some of the newcomers, faced with Washington's high cost of living and their husbands' work at home, plan to leave their families behind. Some have married children but those with teen-agers and younger intend to keep them in school away from Washington.

Rep. Edna Kelly (D), New York, plans to leave 20-year-old William and 16-year-old Maura in school in New York. Rep. Marguerite Church (R), Illinois, has two war veteran sons and a daughter who is attending Wellesley college. Zilpha Bosone, 19, will be with her mother, Rep. Reva Beck Bosone (D), Utah, in Washington.

Not one of the congresswomen considers a family a drawback in pursuing a political career. In fact, all of them say that they never would have made it without their families' encouragement and help.

● ATOMIC BOMBS—A-bombs may be stored in Alaska for a quick retaliatory raid against an enemy in the event of a surprise attack against the United States.

A congressional source, who recently visited the Far North and inspected United States defenses there, hinted very strongly that the Air Force has A-bombs there. He said: "They have the bombs and what goes with them—if you know what I mean."

Asked if he meant A-bombs, the source smiled, but failed to deny it.

● ALASKA-HAWAII—Speaking of Alaska, it seems doubtful that the "lame duck" session of Congress will enact statehood for Alaska—or Hawaii—despite administration pressure for such legislation.

The House already has voted statehood for the two territories and only Senate approval is now needed on Capitol Hill. However, in the Senate there is strong organized opposition to such a move.

A bloc of southern senators is fighting statehood and could stall any Senate attempt at action by merely launching a filibuster. It's questionable whether the Senate would be willing to take time to break any talkfest.

● CIVILIAN ARMY—A great expansion of the National Guard and the Army Reserve can be expected now that Gen. George C. Marshall has decided to remain in President Truman's Cabinet indefinitely as Defense secretary.

Even if the Army gets half of the three million men now sought for the military establishment, Marshall's goal could be realized only if the Guard is doubled and the number of drill-paid reserves is at least tripled.

● CLOUD DRILLERS—Military researchers working on the little known but highly important "Project Cirrus" have discovered a way to drill holes in clouds so that the ground below them can be observed from airplanes.

This, of course, is militarily important, since it will permit observation and attack upon an enemy from the air in weather which up until now has kept the Air Force at bay.

Details as to how the holes are drilled in super-cooled layer-type or stratus clouds have not been made public. However, the technique is believed to be related to that used by the now-famous "rain makers," who use dry ice or silver iodide to cause rain drops or ice crystals.

The work is still in the experimental stage, but practical application may not be far off.

Thirteen members and guests were seated at the table when Mrs. Wilson Dunkle served a lunch to Art Sewing Club in her home in Washington Township Wednesday. Centering the table were poinsettias flanked by red candles. A gift exchange was a feature of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lovett of Stoutsville will be hosts to Gleaners' class of Pontius Evangelical United Brethren church in their home in Stoutsville at 8 p. m. Friday.

Mrs. Renick Dunlap of near Kingston is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. U. Vaughn of Columbus.

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club dinner scheduled for Monday evening in St. Joseph's Catholic church recreational center has been indefinitely postponed because of weather conditions.

Mrs. Ben Grace, president of Commercial Point Garden Club, attended the annual Christmas luncheon and afternoon program of the Home and Community Club of Franklin County Farm Bureau Wednesday.

Bennett-Redding Marriage Told

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Rosalyn Ann Bennett to Charles David Redding by Mr. and Mrs. Hartford Bennett of London Route 4. Mr. Redding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Redding of Mt. Sterling Route 3.

The ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. Patrick's church, Columbus, by the Rev. David Powers on Dec. 2.

The bride, a graduate of Sedalia high school, is employed in Columbus. Mr. Redding, graduated by Fairfield high school, is affiliated with a metal company in London.

The couple is at home in White Oak, Fayette County.

Morris EUB Aid Holds Exchange

A gift exchange and a program of Christmas readings were highlights of the December meeting of Morris Evangelical United Brethren Ladies Aid Society Tuesday. Mrs. Henry Dunkle was hostess to the group.

Mrs. Russell England, president, conducted the business meeting at which members voted a donation to Otterbein Children's Home in Lebanon.

Here you see a beautiful small home, thoughtfully designed for genuine comfort and convenience. It is a practical home, while including niceties ordinarily found in more pretentious dwellings including niceties ordinarily found in more pretentious dwellings.

Follow through the four rooms and note the attractive features of each:

LIVING ROOM

Faces front through a beautiful projecting bay window. The room offers a variety of interesting furniture arrangements, while the cheerful fireplace contributes liberally toward creating a lovely room.

BEDROOMS

Both bedrooms have two large windows which offer excellent "cross ventilation". There is a large closet in each room offering ample clothes hanging space.

KITCHEN

Mrs. Housewife will be delighted to work in this "U" shaped kitchen with its more than generous number of cabinets, counter, and storage space. The dining space is thoughtfully located adjacent to the large double window overlooking the garden. Note how the rear entry leads directly to the basement stairway, thus avoiding unnecessary traffic through the "kitchen dinette" area.

EXTERIOR

The living room bay window and handsome recessed front doorway give a truly distinctive appearance with its lovely colonial characteristics, you can have a home endowed with genuine comfort and true economy.

Magazines for Pickaway County Home may be left in Kingston library Wednesday and Friday of the first two weeks in January.

Miss Hoffman announced she would present a book for the garden shelf in Kingston Library in memory of an aunt, the late Miss Ida Hoffman of Circleville, gardener and flower lover.

The story of Christmas was shown on a screen as principal feature of the evening program. Slides were accompanied by Christmas music. Miss Elizabeth Umpstead served as narrator of the story. She and Mrs. E. V. Graves were responsible for the program.

The Boggs' home was decorated with holly, red candles and two Winter arrangements brought by members. Mrs. Harry Wright brought a snow scene in miniature with frosted trees and a white reindeer beside a lake. Mrs. Donald Miller's arrangement was mounted on white floral foam shaped like a crescent and studded with stars. Santa Claus in his sleigh was the point of interest in Mrs. Miller's arrangement.

Mrs. Frank Haynes presided at the table which was lighted by red candles in a silver candelabrum surrounded by holly.

Personals

Mrs. Harry Wright is in charge of arrangements for annual covered dish dinner which Logan Elm Grange will hold in Pickaway school at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday. A gift exchange will be a feature of the evening.

Thirteen members and guests were seated at the table when Mrs. Wilson Dunkle served a lunch to Art Sewing Club in her home in Washington Township Wednesday. Centering the table were poinsettias flanked by red candles. A gift exchange was a feature of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lovett of Stoutsville will be hosts to Gleaners' class of Pontius Evangelical United Brethren church in their home in Stoutsville at 8 p. m. Friday.

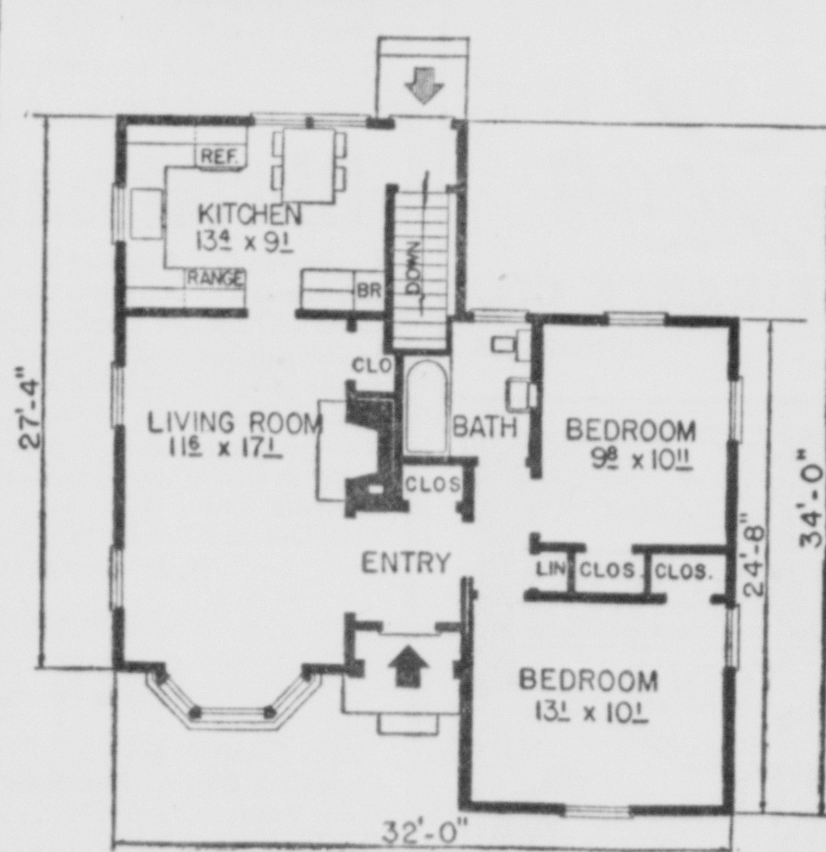

Mrs. Renick Dunlap of near Kingston is visiting her sister, Mrs. M. U. Vaughn of Columbus.

Pickaway County Women's Republican Club dinner scheduled for Monday evening in St. Joseph's Catholic church recreational center has been indefinitely postponed because of weather conditions.

Mrs. Ben Grace, president of Commercial Point Garden Club, attended the annual Christmas luncheon and afternoon program of the Home and Community Club of Franklin County Farm Bureau Wednesday.

City province meeting scheduled for February in Lancaster were Mrs. Eugene Barthelmas and Mrs. Robert Moon. Alternates are Barbara Caskey and Rosemary Goodchild.

Announcement was made that the new floor in the playroom of Pickaway County Children's Home had been completed. This was a sorority project.

Here you see a beautiful small home, thoughtfully designed for genuine comfort and convenience. It is a practical home, while including niceties ordinarily found in more pretentious dwellings including niceties ordinarily found in more pretentious dwellings.

Follow through the four rooms and note the attractive features of each:

LIVING ROOM
Faces front through a beautiful projecting bay window. The room offers a variety of interesting furniture arrangements, while the cheerful fireplace contributes liberally toward creating a lovely room.

BEDROOMS
Both bedrooms have two large windows which offer excellent "cross ventilation". There is a large closet in each room offering ample clothes hanging space.

KITCHEN
Mrs. Housewife will be delighted to work in this "U" shaped kitchen with its more than generous number of cabinets, counter, and storage space. The dining space is thoughtfully located adjacent to the large double window overlooking the garden. Note how the rear entry leads directly to the basement stairway, thus avoiding unnecessary traffic through the "kitchen dinette" area.

EXTERIOR
The living room bay window and handsome recessed front doorway give a truly distinctive appearance with its lovely colonial characteristics, you can have a home endowed with genuine comfort and true economy.

Bennett-Redding Marriage Told

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Rosalyn Ann Bennett to Charles David Redding by Mr. and Mrs. Hartford Bennett of London Route 4. Mr. Redding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Redding of Mt. Sterling Route 3.

The ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. Patrick's church, Columbus, by the Rev. David Powers on Dec. 2.

The bride, a graduate of Se-dalia high school, is employed in Columbus. Mr. Redding, graduated by Fairfield high school, is affiliated with a metal company in London.

The couple is at home in White Oak, Fayette County.

Morris EUB Aid Holds Exchange

A gift exchange and a program of Christmas readings were highlights of the December meeting of Morris Evangelical United Brethren Ladies Aid Society Tuesday. Mrs. Henry Dunkle was hostess to the group.

Mrs. Russell England, president, conducted the business meeting at which members voted a donation to Otterbein Children's Home in Lebanon.

A letter was read from a Bulgarian preacher to whom the society had sent a CARE package.

PAUL DESCRIBES HIS SUFFERINGS FOR CHRIST

Scripture—II Corinthians 11:16-33; 12: 7-10; Philippians 3:4-11; I Timothy 4; James 1:2-4.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

ANYONE who has held a high office, whether in the church or in public affairs, knows what it means to be slandered. No matter how upright he may be, he will always be subject to fault-finding.

His faults are exaggerated; if he makes mistakes (as who does not?) they are blown abroad. Many will admire him, but there are always too many detractors, envious of his position.

Paul, a natural leader of men by virtue of his fervor for the cause of Christ, and by his education and conversion, was no exception to this rule. Evidently the people of the Corinthian church were wavering in their allegiance to him. New disciples were claiming, probably, that they could do better than he.

So Paul decided to defend himself and to boost a little of what he had suffered for the cause of Christ, and to make plain his fitness to be the leader.

First he told of his background. He was a Hebrew (as these others also claimed); he was an

Paul, for they too have gone through some of the same experiences in ministering and preaching to their flocks. They doubtless have not suffered physically as he did, but mentally and spiritually. They know how he felt as he wrote to the Corinthian church.

Think of the conditions of travel in those days, when Paul went from city to city, mostly on foot; occasionally by boat. He must indeed have been a brave man, absolutely unimpaired of self-conscious only of his Lord's commands and his mission.

Paul also spoke of temptation. He had been tempted, he wrote—even as you and I.

"For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, he wrote, 'that it might depart from me. And He said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for My strength is made perfect in weakness.'"

"Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me."

What a fine and comforting thought that is that Paul gave us; we can resist temptation and

Israelite, also of the seed of Abraham. "Are they ministers of Christ?" he asked. "I am more; in labors more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft."

"Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one. Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep."

"In journeying often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren."

He goes on: "In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness."

"Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches. Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?"

In conclusion, as our space is almost filled, attention should be called to the last words Paul ever wrote. His martyrdom was to occur shortly:

There is something almost triumphant in his words:

"I have fought the good fight, I have finished the course, I have kept the faith."

"At my first defense no one took my part, but all forsook me: may it not be laid to their account."

"But the Lord stood by me, and strengthened me; that through me the message might be fully proclaimed, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion."

kitten, while requests flood in for the pooches.

"A kitten has a lot of nice points," the officer said. "It doesn't need a license, doesn't eat much, catches mice and," he added, "doesn't bark at night."

BUT WALLACE added that he will be glad to accept any puppies which might go neglected if the owner will contact him.

"A litter of puppies, which is only a nuisance to the owner, can be used to make several kids happy during Christmas," he pointed out. "Whoever wants to have a good present for his youngsters then could have one of the puppies for the price of a dog license."

Wallace said anyone wishing to get rid of puppies as Christmas presents may contact him at his home.

Puppies Sought By Local Humane Society Officer

Anyone like to have a nice kitten for Christmas?

Ralph Wallace, Pickaway County Humane Society officer, said Friday that he has an excess of kittens on hand which would make nice Christmas presents.

"But it seems that everyone wants puppies instead of kittens," complained the officer. "I have many requests for puppies, but they aren't plentiful. In fact, right now I don't have any."

The humane officer only now and then does anyone ask for a

"A kitten has a lot of nice points," the officer said. "It doesn't need a license, doesn't eat much, catches mice and," he added, "doesn't bark at night."

BUT WALLACE added that he will be glad to accept any puppies which might go neglected if the owner will contact him.

"A litter of puppies, which is only a nuisance to the owner, can be used to make several kids happy during Christmas," he pointed out. "Whoever wants to have a good present for his youngsters then could have one of the puppies for the price of a dog license."

He Got Stomach Distress
When He Ate At Pete's!

But Tums Ended His Gas—Sour Stomach

The food is cooked good—too good. Too rich and too spicy. So lots of people end up with a burning, gassy stomach. But not our friend. He's heard about Tums—carries a roll all the time. Tums quickly neutralize excess stomach acidity—drive away the burning and gas almost instantly. Get a roll of Tums today. Eat 1 or 2 Tums after meals or whenever distress occurs. They work

Survival Under Atomic Attack

Editor's Note: The following is the third in a series of articles on "Survival Under Atomic Attack," taken from a U. S. government booklet.

What About Ground and Water Bursts?

Bursts on or near the ground usually will leave a limited area of rather heavy and often dangerous pollution near the explosion point. In such cases, the possibility of harm from radioactivity falling out of the clouds is greater than in high-level explosions. But even so, a person could escape contamination by simply taking refuge inside a house or even by getting inside a car and rolling up the windows. And even if some of the wastes fell on him, he would lessen his chances of injury if he promptly shed his clothes and took a bath or shower.

In underwater explosions, large portions of the bomb's radioactive wastes will be "trapped" by the water and then spread over the immediate area. Under these conditions, serious ground pollution is to be expected.

After a water or underground burst a cloud of very radioactive mist or dust might form and spread, particularly downwind, injuring people who weren't well sheltered.

If the explosion has been underground, at ground level, or in the water, stay in your shelter. If caught in the open, get indoors right away. Then stay indoors for at least an hour or until you get instructions. It may be necessary to stay inside for three or four hours. The reason for this is that most lingering radioactivity loses its power very fast. So staying under cover for a while will greatly reduce the danger.

ANY rain or mist that comes right after an atomic explosion should be considered dangerous, even though it may not always be radioactive. Keep from getting wet if you possibly can.

And remember that an air burst will leave no lingering radioactivity of importance, so after a few minutes it will be safe to get out and help fight fires or to help people who may need it.

How is Radioactivity Detected?

While we cannot see, hear, feel, smell, or taste radioactivity, its presence readily can be detected with Geiger counters and other instruments. However, you won't have to know how to use one of these. Instead, you can rely on your local radiological defense teams—a small, specially trained corps of "meter readers"—to warn you of the presence of lingering radioactivity. You also can count on them to see to it that firefighters, rescue workers, and other people who may have to enter contaminated places do not remain there long enough to be injured.

But always remember our sunlight comparison. There is usually a whole of a difference between detectable and dangerous amounts of radioactivity. The rays and particles from an ordinary, luminous-dial wrist watch will cause a roar in the earphones of a Geiger counter, as just one example. We must not lose our heads just because radioactivity is reported present.

What About Protecting Yourself From Lingering Radioactivity?

While attempting to avoid exposure to the bomb's blast, heat, and explosive radioactivity, also do what you can to keep from being showered by radioactive waste materials. Inside a shelter or building there is little or nothing to fear from this source. But if caught out-of-doors, try to grab hold of something to cover yourself with when you fall to the ground. A board or some sheets of newspaper might help, but a raincoat would be better. The object is, of course, to keep radioactive dust and raindrops off your body and clothing. When it's safe to get up, throw away your covering.

Always do what you can to help other people. There is no chance of your being harmed by radioactivity from the bodies of others, even if they have radiation injuries. Don't leave injured people where they may be burned. Direct rescue workers to persons trapped in the wreckage. If necessary to bandage open cuts and wounds and no standard first aid equipment is available, use parts of your own or the victim's clothing. But tear them from the under, not the outer garments. Underclothes are far less likely to be contaminated by radioactivity.

If you have walked through rubble from a ground burst or water from an underwater burst, be sure to change at least your outer garments and shoes. Outer clothes will automatically serve as a "trap" for most of the radioactivity you may accidentally pick up. By taking them off you will remove most of the contamination. If the clothing is heavily contaminated, it is best to bury it.

You also should manage to take a bath or shower, if you have been in an area of lingering radioactivity. It is important that all radioactive materials be removed as soon as possible from your body, and bathing is the only practical means of getting rid of them. You won't need special cleaning compounds. Warm water and soap are ideal.

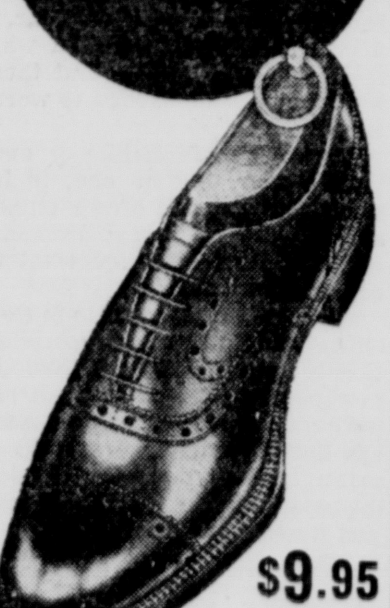

In washing, pay particular attention to your hair, for that is one place where the wastes are sure to pile up. Also give your hands a good scrubbing and get all dirt out from under your fingernails. If there is a radiological defense man handy, have him check you with his meter after you've finished your cleanup. Should he find your body still radioactive, again scrub yourself from head to foot. Then do it a third time if necessary. You can remove practically all of the radioactivity if you keep at it.

Remember all this is necessary only for persons who have come in contact with radioactive materials in heavily contaminated areas.

'Mad Dog' Thug Nabbed By Class Of FBI Pupils

SALINA, Kas., Dec. 15 — "Mad Dog" Gunman Glen Roy Wright, captured by FBI agents who recessed a class in police instruction to make the arrest, was held in Salina city jail today pending action by the U. S. district attorney.

Not a shot was fired when the federal agents closed in on Wright — one of the nation's "ten most wanted" criminals — in a downtown Salina drugstore.

A druggist, one customer and two small boys were in the store when six federal agents entered the front door, walked up to Wright—loitering near a magazine rack—and seized him.

Also on hand was a squad of Salina police—invited to watch the operation by Lee Boardman, Kansas City agent-in-charge, a few minutes earlier when he suddenly recessed an FBI teaching session in the police station.

Wright, 50, a bullet-scarred veteran of two earlier gun battles with arresting officers, was given no chance to use the .45 caliber automatic pistol stuck in his waistband. He carried three extra clips for it.

Six Perfect Grades Recorded In High School

Five girls and one boy achieved perfect marks during the second six-weeks' grading period completed this week in Circleville high school.

Earning perfect marks were Freshmen Linda Given and Marlene Mancini; Sophomore Larry Thornton; Juniors Janet Grant and Jacquie Smith; and Senior Evelyn Turner.

A total of 41 youngsters earned honor marks during the period, with the sophomores dominating the select list with 16 names.

Members of the senior class were next high on the select group with a total of nine names, while juniors and freshmen were next with eight names each.

Complete list of the boys and girls, listed by class, who achieved honor marks during the last grading period is:

FRESHMEN — Linda Given, Marlene Mancini, Lissa Given, Audrey Hoch, Robert Reber, Ronald Bennington, Wilma Wilkinson and Mona Mowery.

Sophomores — Larry Thornton, Connie Bell, Yvonne Clifton, Marion Maynard, Nancy Cline, Dorothy Lamson, Carolyn Wolford, Mildred Derexson, Walter Heine, Blanche Lutz, Mary Ellen Rader, Delores Dearth, Margaret Dresbach, Patricia Shellhammer, Sally Eshelman and Mary Peñe.

Juniors — Janet Grant, Jacquie Smith, Anne Downing, Margery Greiner, James Cook, Wayne

Downing, Warren Leist and Charles Magill.

Seniors — Evelyn Turner, Marjorie Thornton, Donna Cline, Eleanor Lewis, Virginia Stevens, John Lamson, Beverly Reid, James Bartholomew and John Stevenson.

2 Men Killed Guarding Home

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 — Two friends, who were taking care of Glen Ford's Chicago home while he was in the hospital, were found dead—apparently of carbon monoxide asphyxiation—in a tightly closed room when Ford returned.

Police discovered the bodies of Pedro De Alba, 49, of suburban Blue Island, and Henry J. Hauffbauer, 46, yesterday when Ford was unable to unlock the front door.

The officers said a small heater apparently had exhausted the oxygen in the room.

Family Farm System Boomed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — Under Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick warns that any "substantial" loss of the nation's traditional family farm system would spur a "serious threat" of Communism in the U. S.

McCormick told the annual convention of the field men of Production and Marketing Administration this week that "we have greater need of the family farm now, as a bulwark against Communism, than ever before."

"We know from the experiences not only of other nations, but of our own people, that unrest, poverty, discrimination and a feeling of hopeless oppression are the breeding grounds of Communism."

After a water or underground burst a cloud of very radioactive mist or dust might form and spread, particularly downwind, injuring people who weren't well sheltered.

If the explosion has been underground, at ground level, or in the water, stay in your shelter. If caught in the open, get indoors right away. Then stay indoors for at least an hour or until you get instructions. It may be necessary to stay inside for three or four hours. The reason for this is that most lingering radioactivity loses its power very fast. So staying under cover for a while will greatly reduce the danger.

Any rain or mist that comes right after an atomic explosion should be considered dangerous, even though it may not always be radioactive. Keep from getting wet if you possibly can.

And remember that an air burst will leave no lingering radioactivity of importance, so after a few minutes it will be safe to get out and help fight fires or to help people who may need it.

How is Radioactivity Detected?

While we cannot see, hear, feel, smell, or taste radioactivity, its presence readily can be detected with Geiger counters and other instruments. However, you won't have to know how to use one of these. Instead, you can rely on your local radiological defense teams—a small, specially trained corps of "meter readers"—to warn you of the presence of lingering radioactivity. You also can count on them to see to it that firefighters, rescue workers, and other people who may have to enter contaminated places do not remain there long enough to be injured.

But always remember our sunlight comparison. There is usually a whale of a difference between detectable and dangerous amounts of radioactivity. The rays and particles from an ordinary, luminous-dial wrist watch will cause a roar in the earphones of a Geiger counter, as just one example. We must not lose our heads just because radioactivity is reported present.

What About Protecting Yourself From Lingering Radioactivity?

While attempting to avoid exposure to the bomb's blast, heat, and explosive radioactivity, also do what you can to keep from being showered by radioactive waste materials. Inside a shelter or building there is little or nothing to fear from this source. But if caught out-of-doors, try to grab hold of something to cover yourself with when you fall to the ground. A board or some sheets of newspaper might help, but a raincoat would be better. The object is, of course, to keep radioactive dust and raindrops off your body and clothing. When it's safe to get up, throw away your covering.

Always do what you can to help other people. There is no chance of your being harmed by radioactivity from the bodies of others, even if they have radiation injuries. Don't leave injured people where they may be burned. Direct rescue workers to persons trapped in the wreckage. If necessary to bandage open cuts and wounds and no standard first aid equipment is available, use parts of your own or the victim's clothing. But tear them from the under, not the outer garments. Underclothes are far less likely to be contaminated by radioactivity.

If you have walked through rubble from a ground burst or water from an underwater burst, be sure to change at least your outer garments and shoes. Outer clothes will automatically serve as a "trap" for most of the radioactivity you may accidentally pick up. By taking them off you will remove most of the contamination. If the clothing is heavily contaminated, it is best to bury it.

You also should manage to take a bath or shower, if you have been in an area of lingering radioactivity. It is important that all radioactive materials be removed as soon as possible from your body, and bathing is the only practical means of getting rid of them. You won't need special cleaning compounds. Warm water and soap are ideal.

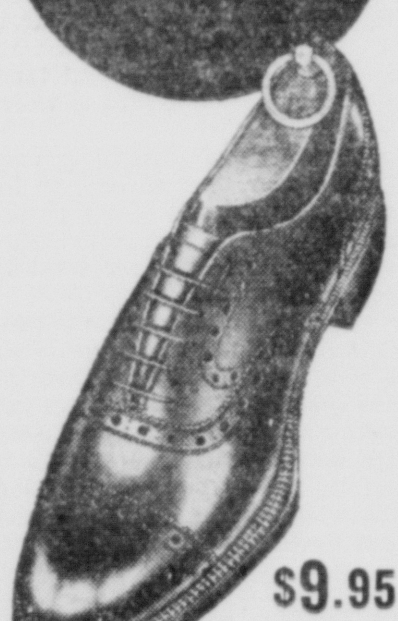

In washing, pay particular attention to your hair, for that is one place where the wastes are sure to pile up. Also give your hands a good scrubbing and get all dirt out from under your fingernails. If there is a radiological defense man handy, have him check you with his meter after you've finished your cleanup. Should he find your body still radioactive, again scrub yourself from head to foot. Then do it a third time if necessary. You can remove practically all of the radioactivity if you keep at it.

Remember all this is necessary only for persons who have come in contact with radioactive materials in heavily contaminated areas.

Stassen Told Not To Travel

SINGAPORE, Dec. 15 — Harold E. Stassen arrived by air yesterday in Singapore, but ventured no further than the airport of the city where rioting took the lives of 19 persons and injured hundreds in the last few days.

The University of Pennsylvania president, on a tour of the Far East, flew in to Singapore aboard a Dutch airliner from Jakarta, Indonesia, and was told it would be safer to stay out of the city.

'Mad Dog' Thug Nabbed By Class Of FBI Pupils

SALINA, Kas., Dec. 15 — "Mad Dog" Gunman Glen Roy Wright, captured by FBI agents who recessed a class in police instruction to make the arrest, was held in Salina city jail today pending action by the U. S. district attorney.

Not a shot was fired when the federal agents closed in on Wright — one of the nation's "ten most wanted" criminals — in a downtown Salina drugstore.

A druggist, one customer and two small boys were in the store when six federal agents entered the front door, walked up to Wright—loitering near a magazine rack—and seized him.

Also on hand was a squad of Salina police—invited to watch the operation by Lee Boardman, Kansas City agent-in-charge, a few minutes earlier when he suddenly recessed an FBI teaching session in the police station.

Wright, 50, a bullet-scarred veteran of two earlier gun battles with arresting officers, was given no chance to use the .45 caliber automatic pistol stuck in his waistband. He carried three extra clips for it.

Six Perfect Grades Recorded In High School

Five girls and one boy achieved perfect marks during the second six-weeks' grading period completed this week in Circleville high school.

Earning perfect marks were Freshmen Linda Given and Marlene Mancini; Sophomore Larry Thornton; Juniors Janet Grant and Jacquie Smith; and Senior Evelyn Turner.

A total of 41 youngsters earned honor marks during the period, with the sophomores dominating the select list with 16 names.

Members of the senior class were next high on the select group with a total of nine names, while juniors and freshmen were next with eight names each.

Complete list of the boys and girls, listed by class, who achieved honor marks during the last grading period is:

FRESHMEN — Linda Given, Marlene Mancini, Lissa Given, Audrey Hoch, Robert Reber, Ronald Bennington, Wilma Wilkinson and Mona Mowery.

SOPHOMORES — Larry Thornton, Connie Bell, Yvonne Clifton, Marion Maynard, Nancy Cline, Dorothy Lampson, Carolyn Wolford, Mildred Derexson, Walter Heine, Blanche Lutz, Mary Ellen Rader, Delores Dearth, Margaret Rader, Patricia Shellhammer, Sally Eshelman and Mary Peche.

Downing, Warren Leist and Charles Magill.

SENIORS — Evelyn Turner, Marjorie Thornton, Donna Cline, Eleanor Lewis, Virginia Stevens, John Lampson, Beverly Reid, James Bartholomew and John Stevenson.

2 Men Killed Guarding Home

CHICAGO, Dec. 15 — Two friends, who were taking care of Glen Ford's Chicago home while he was in the hospital, were found dead—apparently of carbon monoxide asphyxiation—in a tightly closed room when Ford returned.

Police discovered the bodies of Pedro De Alba, 49, of suburban Blue Island, and Henry J. Hauffbauer, 46, yesterday when Ford was unable to unlock the front door.

The officers said a small heater apparently had exhausted the oxygen in the room.

Family Farm System Boomed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — Under Secretary of Agriculture Clarence J. McCormick warns that any "substantial" loss of the nation's traditional family farm system would spur a "serious threat" of Communism in the U. S.

McCormick told the annual convention of the field men of Production and Marketing Administration this week that "we have greater need of the family farm now, as a bulwark against Communism, than ever before."

"We know from the experiences not only of other nations, but of our own people, that unrest, poverty, discrimination and a feeling of hopeless oppression are the breeding grounds of Communism."

CHS Seeking 1st Win In Lion Match

Starting Lineup To Be The Same

Circleville's Red and Black basketball team will try for their first win in three starts this season Friday night when Washington H. invades in Pickaway Fairground.

The Circleville lineup will remain the same as in the last two games during this week's tilt.

Tiger Coach Dick West reported Friday that Forward Don Mancini has shown improvement with his battle against foot blisters and will be in the starting lineup.

Earlier, the coach was doubtful whether the lad would be able to play in the contest, the first South Central Ohio League tilt of the season for the locals.

"HE WAS OK in practice Thursday," West said, "and he'll be in the starting lineup."

Remainder of the starting lineup will remain the same, with Bill Stout at the other attack post; Jim Cook at center; and John Valentine and Jerry Pritchard at guards.

Washington C. H., winner of two contests in three starts this season, is reportedly a small team, although capable of scoring a large amount of points.

In each of his three tilts to date, the Blue Lions have scored more than 50 points per game.

The Lions opened their season with a 53-51 win over Xenia Central, followed with a 65-63 victory over Hillsboro and lost its first encounter last Friday at Bexley by a 59-51 margin.

Circleville, on the other hand, has been unable to bucket 50 points in either of its opening engagements, falling to a 53-37 loss to Columbus Aquinas and losing 53-48 to Columbus North.

CIRCLEVILLE'S reserve team will be seeking its second win in three starts during the preliminary encounter.

Coach Steve Brudzinski's subs suffered a four-point defeat in their opening engagement against Aquinas, although rallying last Friday to tally a 32-30 win against North juniors.

The reserve fracas is to begin at about 7 p. m. Friday, followed by the varsity skirmish at about 8:30 p. m.

Despite Season, Frank Leahy Gets Pay Hike

SOUTH BEND, Dec. 15—The 1950 Notre Dame football team lost four games and tied one for the worst Irish season in 17 years, but Head Coach Frank Leahy today had a raise in pay and a resounding vote of confidence.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, announced the salary increase for Leahy last night at the annual football dinner in South Bend. Amount of the hike was not revealed, but Leahy is said to be getting $15,000 a year.

Father Cavanaugh said: "For those who have any misgivings about Frank Leahy's status with Notre Dame I should like to say this: Mr. Leahy's present contract still has several years to run. At the risk of embarrassing Frank, and as an added vote of confidence in him, I am making the announcement for the first time tonight that the university is increasing his salary."

Coach's Aides Are Selected

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Chuck Thackara, Hamilton high school football coach, today named three other coaches to assist him in directing the all-senior southern "rebels" in the annual North-South high school gridiron classic slated for Aug. 11.

The southern all-star coaches will include Doyt Perry, Upper Arlington coach whose team won nine straight; George Vlerone, mentor of the 9-0-1 Zanesville eleven; and Bill Hess of Portsmouth whose footballers compiled a season's 7-2-1 record.

COLUMBUS, Dec. 15—Ohio State University Athletic Office released the names today of coaches from Colgate university, Drake university and a Port Arthur, Texas, high school who filled official applications for the position of head coach which was vacated Saturday by Wes Fesler.

Thus the field of prospective replacements for the post of Buckeye head mentor was increased to seven to date.

The three new candidates are: Nick Wasylik, former Buck quarterback of 1935, '36 and '37 and now assistant coach at Colgate under Paul Bixler; Warren Gaer, coach at Drake univer-

Gridders Told Practice What They Preach

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 15—John (Ox) Da Grosa, former Holy Cross football coach and now a Pennsylvania state athletic commissioner, admonished the nation's college grid rulers today to practice what they preach.

Da Grosa said the game is operating under a "dollar sign formation." He explained that accent on crowd-pleasing high scoring has tipped the balance heavily in favor of an offensive game, with fundamentals playing second string.

He struck out at the "caste system" of scheduling by which some institutions refuse to play others they consider their "social inferiors."

The disregard for fundamentals in the playing of the game itself figured indirectly, Da Grosa said, in many of the upsets of 1950.

He said that many teams "went soft" against T-formation opponents, and despite their own high-scoring tactics found themselves upended when they met a good single-wing team.

Da Grosa explained: "THE T-FORMATION teams were used to 'brush blocking' and weren't prepared for the hard, crashing blocks and power of the single wing team well drilled in the fundamentals."

Da Grosa pointed out that theory favors a crowd-pleasing offense with an aerial circus, because every pass is a potential touchdown—and big scores mean big games.

"All the new rules to date," he said, "have favored the offense, thus making the pendulum swing too far one way. Maybe we can toss out some of these rules and bring back some old ones like the one making it compulsory for the passer to throw from not less than five yards behind the line."

Next game for the Circleville team will be held in the CHS gym at 4 p. m. next Thursday against invading Chillicothe West Fifth junior cagers.

Box score of the junior Tiger win follows:

Wrestler Fined In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Dec. 15—Ivan Rasputin, heavyweight wrestler, will have to let go of $25 today to get out of a tangle with the Cincinnati Boxing and Wrestling Commission.

At a meeting yesterday the commission levied a fine on Rasputin for leaving the ring in Cincinnati Music Hall a few weeks ago.

In other actions the commission passed a motion opposing tournaments in which "unseasoned women wrestlers" are used.

The application of Jake Mintz, co-manager of Heavyweight Champ Ezzard Charles, for a manager's license in Cincinnati, was also taken under consideration.

New TV Gadget Claimed Boon To Sportsmen

CHICAGO, Dec. 15—The president of the Zenith Radio Corp. claimed today he has a harness for the so-called television monster that can change it into a beloved brother of every sports promoter.

E. F. McDonald Jr. said this cure-all for the pocketbook pains of those sponsoring athletic events is a gadget called "phonevision."

He claimed a new source of revenue could be tapped by charging television set owners a fee for seeing a sports event. McDonald continued:

"Phonevision is an attachment to a TV receiver and is operated in conjunction with the telephone company. This subscription system of television presents a scrambled picture of a fee program unless the set owner calls the telephone company and asks that the presentation be unscrambled."

McDONALD SAID most shows normally seen without extra charge would still be available. He added that fights, football and baseball games and certain other events, however, would be put on a pay-as-you-see basis.

The Federal Communications Commission has authorized a 90-day phonevision test. It is scheduled to begin within the next 10 days.

Zenith has put the experiment in the hands of the National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago to secure complete objectivity.

The research group has selected 300 families for the test. Full length motion pictures will be presented on this phonevision hookup and any family desiring to go to the movies at home will call the telephone company and be billed one dollar.

Ordinary television sets without the phonevision attachment will be unable to receive these pictures.

CHS Seeking 1st Win In Lion Match

Starting Lineup To Be The Same

Circleville's Red and Black basketballers will try for their first win in three starts this season Friday night when Washington C. H. invades in Pickaway Fairground.

The Circleville lineup will remain the same as in the last two games during this week's tilt.

Tiger Coach Dick West reported Friday that Forward Don Mancini has shown improvement with his battle against foot blisters and will be in the starting lineup.

Earlier, the coach was doubtful whether the lad would be able to play in the contest, the first South Central Ohio League tilt of the season for the locals.

"HE WAS OK in practice Thursday," West said, "and he'll be in the starting lineup."

Remainder of the starting lineup will remain the same, with Bill Stout at the other attack post; Jim Cook at center; and John Valentine and Jerry Pritchard at guards.

Washington C. H., winner of two contests in three starts this season, is reportedly a small team, although capable of scoring a large amount of points.

In each of its three tilts to date, the Blue Lions have scored more than 50 points per game.

The Lions opened their season with a 53-51 win over Xenia Central, followed with a 65-63 victory over Hillsboro and lost its first encounter last Friday at Bexley by a 59-51 margin.

Circleville, on the other hand, has been unable to bucket 50 points in either of its opening engagements, falling to a 53-57 loss to Columbus Aquinas and losing 53-48 to Columbus North.

CIRCLEVILLE'S reserve team will be seeking its second win in three starts during the preliminary encounter.

Coach Steve Brudinski's subs suffered a four-point defeat in their opening engagement against Aquinas, although rallying last Friday to tally a 32-30 win against North juniors.

The reserve fracas is to begin at about 7 p. m. Friday, followed by the varsity skirmish at about 8:30 p. m.

Despite Season, Frank Leahy Gets Pay Hike

SOUTH BEND, Dec. 15—The 1950 Notre Dame football team lost four games and tied one for the worst Irish season in 17 years, but Head Coach Frank Leahy today had a raise in pay and a resounding vote of confidence.

The Rev. John J. Cavanaugh, president of Notre Dame, announced the salary increase for Leahy last night at the annual football dinner in South Bend. Amount of the hike was not revealed, but Leahy is said to be getting $15,000 a year.

Father Cavanaugh said: "For those who have any misgivings about Frank Leahy's status with Notre Dame I should like to say this: Mr. Leahy's present contract still has several years to run. At the risk of embarrassing Frank, and as an added vote of confidence in him, I am making the announcement for the first time tonight that the university is increasing his salary."

Browns Favored By 7 Points Over Giants

CLEVELAND, Dec. 15 — The boys who make a living at it are installing the Cleveland Browns as current seven-point favorites over the New York Giants for the National Football League's divisional playoff Sunday.

Perhaps they are playing the law of averages or are in league with some occult powers for the records show that the Giants gave the Browns the only two setbacks in 12 games the Clevelanders suffered in their first year of NFL competition.

However, even Steve Owen, the stout mentor of the Giants, is reported to be no more than "hopeful" of a victory in the third meeting between the co-leaders of the American Division.

The Giants took the first match, 6-0, in what many termed a fluke, but they did it decisively on their home grounds in the return affair, although the score of 17-13 indicated a closer battle.

Coach Paul Brown has remarked that the Giants' victories were "flimsy things. They'll have to earn every point they get this time. Our mistakes helped them both times."

Besides wanting badly to win a crack at the league title, Brown has other cogent reasons to gain the victory. For one thing, Brown is still ranked over the remarks made by Earle "Greasy" Neale, the Philadelphia coach, who let it be known he would prefer having the Giants win the division crown.

Brown is not one who takes to such talk lightly and he probably would give up some of his vanishing hair to win Sunday.

Of course, such talk will do no harm to the gate.

Chief Selected

DELAWARE, Dec. 15—F. B. Kelley is the new president of the Delaware County fair board, effective Jan. 1. The 1951 Delaware County Fair will be held the week of Sept. 17.

ity; and John Tomlin, Port Arthur high school grid head who has lost only two of his last 44 games.

Still more prominently mentioned were Cleveland Browns Coach Paul Brown and Ohio State Frosh Boss Harry Strobel, the latter of which has announced he would actively seek the post.

The university's selection committee, members of which were announced yesterday, indicated today it would invite Brown to a conference in Columbus as soon as his club ends play in the National Football League.

AT THE SAME time, it was affirmed the committee would merely seek to determine his availability and salary demands.

Two other popularly mentioned coaches for the position were Sid Gillman, Cincinnati university coach; and Massillon High School Coach Chuck Mather.

Fesler will present a farewell address tonight in Columbus at a dinner which will honor Buckeye lettermen and name the 1951 grid captain.

Fesler's talk is expected to highlight the evening's activities which will be attended by some 1,000 fans, students and faculty members and is sponsored by the Ohio Staters, Inc., a student activities group.

The outstanding sophomore member of the 1950 Buck squad will be awarded a trophy and 14 graduating grid-ders will be feted.

High on the list of candidates for the 1951 captaincy are: Sonny Gandee, Bob Heid, Julie Wittman, Dick Logan, Vic Janowicz and Walt Klevay.

Junior Tigers Win First Tilt By 50-30 Margin

Circleville junior high school basketball team scored its first win of the season Thursday when it posted a 50-30 victory over Laurelville juniors on the Laurelville hardwood.

The junior Tigers opened the encounter with a meagre 14-12 margin over the host team, although swelling the margin to 28-16 at the half.

Mike Rooney was high scorer during the game as he bucketed 19 points for the Circleville juniors, while Teammate Rog Graham was next with a total of 12 points. Tom Dennison and Forward Young were high scorers for Laurelville with eight points each.

Thursday's victory gave the CHS juniors a record of one win in two starts this season. The locals were beaten last week by invading Darby juniors.

NEXT GAME for the Circleville team will be held in the CHS gym at 4 p. m. next Thursday against invading Chillicothe West Fifth junior cagers.

Box score of the junior Tiger win follows:

Regulation W's Effect In County Told By Chattel Data

Credit Curb Cuts Total Of Loans

Haste Is Shown Beating Deadline

Federal Regulation W, requiring more money down and less time to pay, apparently has had the expected dampening effect on Pickaway County credit buyers.

The credit controls were put in effect Oct. 18 as inflation check-reins.

Statistics on file in Pickaway County recorder's office show that in October 351 chattel mortgages were filed for a total credit amount of $477,753.08.

The month before 387 chattels were filed totalling $237,178.78, while in August the number was 414 for $222,819.76. The money increase was due to one or two individual loans for large amounts.

The figures presented above represent a giant-sized research job by personnel of the recorder's office.

It was explained that most of the October chattels went on the books before the 18th. Persons who had borrowing to do hurried to take advantage of the comparatively easy credit regulations prior to that date.

JUST HOW MUCH effect Regulation W has had on credit buying here will not be evident until the November figures have been tallied and interpreted. Even then a true picture may not be presented because of the nearness of the Christmas shopping season.

The credit controls are expected to cut into the usual high tide of Yule trade, however.

Sternest deal is given car buyers, who have to meet installment terms equalling the stiffest imposed in the auto market during the war: one-third down and 15 months to pay off the balance. Formerly it was 21 months.

On home appliances the rule requires 25 percent down and 15 months to pay. Before the regulation only 15 percent down was demanded and 18 months to settle the balance.

Furniture buyers also have to lay out 15 percent down payment and make their last installment within 15 months. Previously the rule was 10 percent and 18 months.

Down payments are required on all articles costing $50 or more, instead of the previous $100 minimum.

Breakdown of the statistics in the county recorder's office shows that loan company, bank and commodity credit loans in October totalled 203, amounting to $414,017.50.

IN SEPTEMBER the number was 195, amounting to $182,257.25; and in August 250 amounting to $164,618.96.

The figures show that credit buying dropped off in September when comparatively mild curbs were instituted by the government, shot up again in October as buyers raced to get under the mid-month Regulation W deadline.

Commodity credit loans, which are included in the figures, are made to farmers. And the purchase of farm, educational and medical and hospital supplies and equipment is not affected by the credit rule.

Loans for home appliances, according to the recorder's figures, totalled 136 amounting to $41,637.83 in October; 175 amounting to $43,254.91 in September; and 151 amounting to $42,880.99 in August.

Only 12 chattel mortgages for farm implements, amounting to $22,097.75, were filed in October; 17 totalling $11,666.62 in September.

3-Year High School Studied

NEW YORK, Dec. 15 — The New York state board of regents proposes that high school studies be speeded up to permit graduation in three years because the time has come for "universal national service."

The board said this would enable students to get in one year of college work before beginning military training.

The board, which has control of school curricula in New York state, also suggested stepped-up courses in the colleges.

Latest Truman Writing Brings Loud Applause

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Wednesday President Truman did a lot of writing that was received with applause and gratitude.

He appeared for the first time in public with his daughter, Margaret, since her Constitution Hall concert that resulted in another, and less pleasant, batch of writing.

The President and his daughter attended a father and daughter banquet at the National Press Club, of which he is a member.

All during the meal, Mr. Truman was besieged by other club members who wanted his autograph. He gave it willingly and said:

"I want to say to every one of you young ladies, send me a Christmas card saying 'Dear Mr. President—I was at the Press Club father and daughter dinner and here's my autograph.'" He added:

"It's the most pleasant evening I've spent in a long time and I haven't had many pleasant ones lately."

The writing that received less favorable comment was a letter sent from the White House to a Washington music critic castigating him for panicking Miss Truman's concert. In the letter, the signer, "H. S. T.", threatened to punch the critic in the nose.

Railroads Use Bus Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15 — If you want to ride a train in or out of Washington, the chances are that you will wind up on a bus.

The wildcat strike of rail workers that tied up train service through the Washington Terminal had the railroad companies resorting to automotive transport. They chartered buses to shuttle passengers between the capital and outlying stations in Alexandria, Va., and Silver Spring, Md.

ber; and 13 totalling $15,319.81 in August.

Car buyers shied off more noticeably after the imposition of credit curbs in September and the stiffer rule in October.

According to figures on file in Pickaway County clerk of courts office 553 auto titles changed hands in October, 719 in September and 890 in August.

In the five year period since 1945 the number of chattel mortgages filed has climbed sharply. For 1945-46 the number filed was 1,463; 1946-47, 2,523; 1947-48, 3,267; 1948-49, 3,593; and 1949-50, 4,983.

Anna Rosenberg Certain To Get Senate's OK

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Quick Senate confirmation was predicted today for the nomination of Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg as assistant defense secretary after a Senate committee unanimously repudiated Communist front charges against her.

Sen. Byrd, (D) Va., assigned to handle the nomination on the floor, said he will ask the Senate to act on it Monday or Tuesday — after printed transcripts of the closed-door testimony are available.

Byrd said he expects little debate after the unanimous repudiation by the Armed Services Committee of the Communist-front charge against Mrs. Rosenberg, supported only by a former Communist.

The thoroughness with which the committee ran down every clue will be shown in the committee record and will head off debate that otherwise would have taken place, Byrd said.

Sen. Cain, (R) Wash., another armed services member, said he has heard no indication that any senator plans to speak against the nomination, although he said there may be scattered votes against her.

The committee unanimously gave Mrs. Rosenberg a clean bill of health by reaffirming its earlier action, in which it recommended, also by a unanimous vote, that the Senate confirm her.

Above-Average Harvest Record Expected Monday

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15—Uncle Sam adds up farmers' production accomplishments on Monday.

The Agriculture Department's annual summary of crop production—scheduled for publication Dec. 18—is expected to verify earlier reports that the nation's farmers produced the fourth greatest annual volume of crops in history.

The November crop report forecasted the total volume of crops so large that it is only topped by production in 1946, 1948 and 1949.

The tremendous output this year—coming at a crucial period in the nation's history—was led off by record crops of soybeans, sorghum grain and sugar beets.

Other large harvests this year—putting a lot of weight on the total output volume—are corn, estimated last month at three billion 105 million bushels; oats, but they are above average.

one billion 484 million bushels; flaxseed, 35 million bushels; potatoes, 431 million bushels; tobacco, two billion pounds; and hay, 107 million tons.

Those crops are not records, but they are above average.
